PA NEWC OBSERVES

This morning, Forsythia bushes with their buds quite full, gave every indication that they would burst forth in their beauty in a day or so.

Little interest was manifested by the public last night in returns from the primary election. It was probably the quietest election night in many years. The light vote cast by both Republican and Democratic party voters seemed to reflect the apathy that apparently could not be routed. All indications are that the fall election will be entirely the reverse and probably a record vote will be cast in the city and county. Most election boards did good work last night, and had the vote tabulated in very reasonable time.

If weather conditions would turn like they did a year ago, local folks would be very much satisfied. A year ago today, the mercury got up to 73 degrees, and was followed by two days of mid-summer temperatures when the mercury rose to 82 and 83 degrees. Housewives who have not completed their spring housecleaning yet are hopeful that the extremely warm weather will hold off for a few more days, however.

Dance Hall Fire Takes Lives Of Over 200 Negroes In Mississippi Last Night

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 24.—A death toll of 203 Negroes, trapped by flames in a fire which destroyed a crowded dance hall last night, was officially announced today by Coroner R. E. Smith.

Coroner Smith estimated that the final death toll would be near 250. Scores were taken to hospitals suffering from burns and other injuries.

The Negroes, caught in a frame structure to which there was only one exit, were burned and suffocated when tinder-dry Spanish moss with which the hall was decorated caught fire shortly before midnight.

One hundred and ninety-five died in the screaming and fighting throng which jammed behind the one door, Coroner Smith said. The windows of the hall had been boarded up to prevent gate crashing.

Eight more victims died en route to hospitals or shortly after reach-

Reising Wins Over O'Neill

Congressional Nomination Battle In Democratic Primary Is Close Race

M'QUIDDY LEADS IN SENATE RACE

Due to an overwhelming vote in his home county, Beaver, Peter P. Reising, former member of the General Assembly, was chosen by the Democrats for the nomination to Congress on the Democratic ticket on Tuesday. The total vote for Reising in 291 out of 293 precincts in Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties was: Reising 5,958, Elmer D. O'Neill of New Castle 5,478, and Andrew Katcher of Beaver county 2,972. One large precinct in Midland, favorable to Reising, is still out as this is written, and one precinct in Lawrence county, the sec-

Missing Returns Await Official Count Report

It may be ten days before the voters of Lawrence county know what vote was cast upon the Democratic ticket for congress, state senator and general assembly in the second precinct of Mahoning township. County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., today ruled that the box could not be opened until the official return board met.

In some manner the election board of the precinct overlooked the tallying of the offices mentioned and the ballots are locked and sealed in the ballot box. The official return board will likely be appointed on Friday and it may be the latter part of next week before they get to the second of Mahoning if they follow the usual course of procedure.

Philadelphia Gives Big Edge To Sen. Guffey

Senator Wins Battle For Renomination In Democratic Party

COOKE TRAMPLES ALL OPPOSITION

Majority Given Guffey In Philadelphia Assures Him State Victory

By WATSON FENIMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Providing a margin that played an important factor in his state-wide victory, Philadelphia Democrats gave U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey a 43,442-vote majority over Walter A. Jones of Pittsburgh in yesterday's Democratic senatorial primary, complete city returns showed today.

In a listless election that brought out only about 40 per cent of the city's 1,037,000 registered voters, Guffey swept to what was regarded as a major political upset here on a campaign of down-the-line endorsement of President Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Cooke Wins Easily

While GOP City Chairman Jay Cooke easily won the Republican nomination for U. S. senator in Philadelphia as well as the state, Guffew carried 41 of Philadelphia's 51 wards and ran up a total of 99,119 ballots to 55,677 for Jones. William McNair, former mayor of Pittsburgh, polled 2,589 votes.

Philadelphia Democrats rolled up 148,739 votes in the presidential balloting for President Roosevelt who thereby received only a few thousand votes less than the total of 154,796 for Jones and Guffey in the senatorial fight. Vice-President John N. Garner got four votes, one

Over 2,000,000 British Soldiers Now Under Arms

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24.—The British Empire now has 2,000,000 soldiers under arms, it was stated authoritatively today.

This figure does not include the personnel of the navy, the marine corps, the royal air force, the mercantile marine or civilian organizations such as the A.R.P., it was said.

The average age of the British troops is 26.

A large number of volunteers is still being accepted, the announcement declared. For every three men thus far conscripted, two volunteers have been enlisted. The British armies in France, the middle east and Norway are being steadily augmented.

British Raid German Bases

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24.—Widespread British air raids against German bases during the night were announced by the air ministry today.

Royal air force planes attacked the Westerland airdrome on the fortified German island of Sylt, the German-held air base at Aarlborg, Denmark, and other German air bases at Christiansand, Oslo and Stavanger in Norway, the announcement stated.

Senator Guffey's Lead Increases

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 24.—U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey today piled up a commanding lead which may reach 100,000 votes, clinching the Democratic nomination for reelection and threatening to topple from power Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence.

Steadily mounting figures gave added emphasis to the smashing success of "Pennsylvania's No. 1 Democrat" who firmly re-established himself in the seat of party power by defeating Walter A. Jones, fellow Pittsburgher and chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission, whom Lawrence supported.

More than two-thirds of the state's 8089 precincts gave the junior senator from Pennsylvania a lead of almost 75,000, with his plurality steadily increasing as late returns came in from yesterday's primary election. The vote: Guffey 325,000; Jones 250,000.

British Claim Destruction Of German Planes

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24.—Destruction of numerous German warplanes and the wrecking of several key German airdromes were announced today by the air ministry as a result of widespread air raids against Nazi bases during last night.

Royal Air Force planes attacked the Westernland airport on the fortified German island of Sylt and "almost continuously" bombarded the objective for an hour and 40 minutes.

In a raid on the German-held air base at Stavanager, the British claimed 20 Nazi aircraft were heavily bombed and a number believed destroyed.

Graham Wins Re-Nomination

Has Large Majority Over Butler County Opponent In Congress Race

ROWLAND NAMED DISTRICT DELEGATE

Congressman Louis E. Graham of Beaver won a sweeping victory over John C. Graham of Butler in the Republican tussle for the nomination on Tuesday in the 26th district comprising Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties. In 292 precincts out of 293 in the district Congressman Graham received 22,958 as against 11,201 for John C. Graham. The tabulated vote follows:

Lawrence county, 100 precincts (total):
Louis E. Graham, 7172.
John C. Graham, 4022.
Beaver county, 107 out of 108 precincts:
Louis E. Graham, 11,437.
John C. Graham, 1,854.
Butler county, 85 precincts (total):
Louis E. Graham, 4349.
John C. Graham, 5325.

Delegates To Convention

In the race for delegates to the national convention Roger W. Rowland of New Castle and Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver won the contests, Lawrence A. Sebring finishing third. Captain Rowland received 21,423 votes, Bradshaw 19,561 and Sebring 16,338 in 292 precincts out of 293. The tabulation follows:

Lawrence county:
Roger W. Rowland, 9393.
Thompson Bradshaw, 5102.
Lawrence A. Sebring, 2996.
Beaver county, 107 precincts out of 108:
Rowland, 5183.

Cooke Promises Vigorous Fight For Senate Seat

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24. — Happy at his effortless victory in the U. S. senatorial primary election, Jay Cooke today promised to press a vigorous campaign which would bring "a greater Republican victory in November."

"I want to justify the confidence of the electorate next fall," the 43-year-old nominee declared. "To that end I will make the most vigorous campaign in my power to restore Pennsylvania completely to its rightful place in the Republican party."

Cooke revealed he would resume immediately his post as Philadelphia G. O. P. city chairman, from which he took a leave of absence to conduct the primary campaign.

Both Allied And German Reinforcements Are Being Poured Into Norway Now

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24.—Both Allied and German reinforcements are being poured into the Gudbrandsdal Valley of Norway in anticipation of a decisive battle expected shortly, it was stated in a Reuter dispatch from Stockholm today.

Quoting the Roeros correspondent of the newspaper Aftonbladet, the dispatch said that Allied forces are making swift progress toward Lillehammer in preparation for the encounters.

German bombing of Dombaas and other places in the valley have not prevented the Allies from using the railway line to send reinforcements south, the dispatch said.

The Germans meanwhile are sending strong detachments northward from Oslo and are exerting heavy pressure on the Aamot district north of Rena.

Allied reinforcements continue to arrive at Namsos despite frequent Nazi air raids, the ditpatch added.

Wampum Votes For Bond Issue

Favorable Vote Is Cast For New Gymnasium At High School

Wampum will still be able to engage in indoor sports. At the special election held Tuesday to pass upon a bond issue of $20,000 for a new gymnasium, the voters said Yes, 204 times, and No, 104 times which seems to be fairly definite enough.

The new gymnasium became a need when the state ordered the old opera house abandoned because of hazards. The opera house had been the home of all indoor sports staged by the Wampum high school and many amateur events. It was the only place in the boro where basketball and other indoor sports could be played.

With the bond issue now passed both officials will go to Harrisburg to see if there is a possibility that some Federal aid may be secured to augment the $20,000 which will be made possible through the sale of the bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—In a stormy session today, the house agriculture committee voted to investigate activities of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Dr. A. G. Black, governor of the farm credit administration, in behalf of the Jones-Wheeler farm credit bill. The vote was 12 to 9.

The action followed charges that Dr. Black had violated federal law by using his official position and government funds to whip up sentiment among farmer borrowers for the measure which revolutionizes the present farm credit system.

New Positions Taken Up By British As Result Of Devastating Attack

By STEN HEDMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STOCKHOLM, April 24.—After a nightlong bombardment that left the town a mass of smoking ruins, German troops swept into the strategic railway center of Steinkjer 60 miles north of Trondheim today, forcing British and Norwegian defenders to retreat to new positions.

Official Norwegian advices received in Stockholm described the Nazi onslaught on Steinkjer as one of the most devastating of the war.

High explosive and incendiary bombs hurtling from the sky and grenades and shells hurled into all sections of Steinkjer were reported to have wrecked the town completely. Six thousand Norwegian residents now are homeless.

Positions Still Tolding

Latest advices said that the British and Norwegian positions eight miles north of the city were still holding out and still represented a strategic grip on the railway spur running through Stenkjer.

Following the initial bombardment by airplanes and light field artillery, German infantrymen advanced with machine-guns and rifles to clear out the last defenders of the smoking town. Allied headquarters in the leading hotel of Steinkjer were subjected to a terrific aerial bombardment, but there was no estimate of casualties.

Less Than Half Of Vote Cast

Something approaching a new low in voting was accomplished in Lawrence County on Tuesday when only about 45 per cent of the registered voters in the county took the trouble to go to the polls. Of the over 42,000 voters registered, the total voting was approximately 18,000.

Taking the vote for the United States congress and senate, nominations as a yard stick of the total vote the 42 percent appears to be about right. The Republicans voted 11,194 and the Democrats voted 6,068. This would not include every voter but it is close enough to point attention to the neglect of duty by 55 per cent of the voters of the county.

The defection was particularly noticeable in the rural districts. This may have been due to the good weather, permitting the farmers to get a lot of their spring work done. In the city a slightly higher percentage of the vote was out but not enough to pin any gardenias on lapels about.

Italy's Terms For Mediterranean Peace

Correspondent Given Outline

Liberation Of Italy As "Prisoner Of Mediterranean" Is Demanded

PRESUMABLY SAME TERMS GIVEN ALLIES

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, April 24.—Italy's "essential terms" for preserving peace in the Mediterranean were outlined to this correspondent by an unimpeachable authority today—presumably in the same form that they have been presented to Great Britain and France.

In brief, they mean complete liberation of Italy as "prisoner of the Mediterranean."

But an even more immediate demand is cessation of "hectoring" British blockade tactics in what Premier Mussolini has always termed "mare nostrum" (our sea.)

Further than this, the long-range Italian program calls for demilitarization of British and French bases at Malta, Corsica and Bizerte (Tunis), and possibly Suez, Cyprus and Gibraltar as well.

Expect Changes

There is naturally no hint as to how these demands have been received, although yesterday a high authority told this correspondent that some "constructive" alteration in Anglo-French-Italian relations could be anticipated in the near future.

"Security and liberty for Italy in the Mediterranean" is the core and kernal of the Italian thesis. Until it is achieved, this country will remain a European danger spot, and while no renunciation of his present non-belligerency is looked for, Premier Mussolini must continue to be regarded as a soldier at war for his rights in the meantime.

The war cannot end and peace cannot be restored unless Italy is unshackled from the "slavery" of her own sea, and until "pistols pointed at her heart" are laid down for all time, my informent declared.

Whether Italy remains non-belligerent or enters the conflict on the side of her ally, Germany, Mussolini cannot see the war ending without satisfaction of Italy's needs and aspirations, it was said.

time, polling 2919 votes as against 1197 for Peter B. Reising of Beaver county and 991 for Andrew Katcher of Beaver county. Mr. O'Neill was secretary to Charles R. Eckert of Beaver county in the two terms he served as congressman from this district.

The complete return for state senate on the Democratic ticket will also be found in other columns but in Lawrence county the present assemblyman from New Castle, Carmi G. Preston nosed out Adam Pszenny. With 99 precincts heard from out of the 100 in the county, Preston has 2273 and Pszenny 2029. J. K. McQuiddy received 966. The missing precinct is the second of Mahoning township where a most unusual happening occurred.

For some reason the election board seemed to have overlooked counting the ballots on the Democratic ticket for congress, state senate and general assembly in the second district, according to report at the court house. The missing precinct cannot overcome the lead of Mr. Preston but can cut it down somewhat if Mr. Pszenny carried the precinct.

Presley N. Jones Wins

For the nomination to the general assembly from New Castle, the first district, Presley N. Jones won a smashing victory in a field of five. Mr. Jones polled 1423 votes, Joseph Clavelli, his nearest opponent got 726, Harold A. Good was third with 437, Thomas F. Hanlon was fourth with 395 and Theodore Gunnett was fifth with 385.

In the second district the result will be in doubt until the returns from the second of Mahoning are tabulated. With 99 precincts out of 100 in, Bernard W. N. Chill of Pulaski township is high with 995 votes and Clyde M. Buzard of Ellwood City is right in back of him with 984. The second of Mahoning cast a fairly large vote but inasmuch as Mr. Chill carried the first and third precincts his friends say he will increase his scant lead when the votes are counted. The probabilities are that the count will not be known until the official return board makes its count and this will be over a week hence. Mr. Chill is a young man of 23 years of age and made a surprising race for one so new to the political arena.

No attempt was made to tabulate the returns for delegate-at-large to the national convention, there being sixteen winners out of eighteen candidates. The Democrats divide their delegate votes four ways, each one of sixteen getting one-fourth vote. For alternate delegate-at-large there were sixteen candidates for sixteen places. No candidates were filed for alternate delegates.

In the race for state committee, J. Frank Stevens, the present incumbent was re-elected over Attorney Raymond W. Humphries of Ellwood City. Mr. Stevens polled 2251 votes and Mr. Humphrey 2188 votes.

SHANNON WINS IN CITY CONTEST FOR LEGISLATURE

nomination Congressman Louis E. Graham polled a handsome vote. He carried almost every precinct in the county and amassed a total of 7172 votes as against 4022 for John C. Graham of Butler county. The totals for the 26th district will be found in another article in this edition. Congressman Graham carried Lawrence and Beaver counties.

For state senator, the present assemblyman from the second district of Lawrence county, W. Sharp Fullerton of North Beaver township, had no opposition and his vote was not tabulated.

The race for the nomination for the General Assembly in New Castle, the first district of Lawrence county, turned out to be a field day for Oliver J. Shannon of the second ward. Shannon outstripped his nearest rival by nearly 1500 votes.

Shannon polled 2823 votes, J. Elder Bryan was second with 1385 votes, James C. Brice was third with 1218 votes, William D. Williams, Jr., was fourth with 929 votes, Robert M. Strickler, Jr., was fifth with 911 votes and Attorney Alvah K. Fisher was sixth with 192 votes. Shannon ran a consistent race, getting a heavy vote in every section of the city. It was his first race for political office.

Second District

In the second district, comprising all of the county outside the city, former State Senator George T. Weingartner had no opposition and his vote was not tabulated.

The same thing is true of Ivor V. Davis, present state committeeman. Mr. Davis had no opposition for his position and is re-elected. His vote was not tabulated.

The delegates-at-large to the national convention to be held in Philadelphia in June had no opposition and their votes were not tabulated. They are Governor Arthur H. James, G. Mason Owlett, U. S. Senator James J. Davis and Marion M. Scranton.

There was no opposition to the four candidates for alternate delegates-at-large and no tabulation was made. They are Margaret W. Verner of Pittsburgh, Edith Wood Powell of Chester county, Joseph W. Wear of Montgomery county and Frank C. Hilton of Berks county.

In the race for delegates from the 26th congressional district Secretary of Property and Supplies Roger W. Rowland finished high with Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver county as his running mate. The tabulations for the three counties in the district are found elsewhere in this edition.

Flattering Vote

In Lawrence county, his home county, Captain Rowland received a flattering vote, polling 9393 votes, the highest vote of any candidate on either ticket in this county. Captain Rowland is the chairman of the Lawrence County Republican committee. Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver county received 5102 votes in this county and Lawrence A. Sebring, also of Beaver county, received 2996 votes.

One office for which there were no filed candidates was that of alternate delegate to the convention. It will take the official count of all three counties in the district to determine what two persons were elected to the post.

ing them. Between 40 and 50 of those who escaped alive were seriously or critically burned. Most of the victims were young persons, many of them 15 and 16 years old.

Believes Decorations Ignited

Although the cause of the fire was not immediately determined, Coroner Smith said he assumed that the decorations were ignited when someone lighted a cigaret, possibly throwing aside a still-lighted match.

Between 600 and 700 dancers, gathered for one of the highlights of the Negro social season for which tickets were $2.50 apiece, were on the dance floor when the fire broke out, Coroner Smith estimated. Tickets for 1,100 persons had been sold.

So quickly did the flames envelop the hall that, although a fire station is only a short distance away, firemen arrived too late to do anything for the victims. Only the skeleton of the one-story building was left standing.

Ten of the 14 members of the Walter Barnes Negro band from Chicago were believed to be among the dead.

He was born March 20, 1900, in New Castle, a son of George F. and Maude Allard Davids, and was a member of Highland U. P. church. For 23 years, he worked for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as a clerk in the office until November, 1937.

Surviving are his wife, Irene Jones Davids; one daughter, Shirley Jane, at home; his father, George F. Davids of New Castle; two brothers, Allard J. Davids of Turtle Creek, William S. Davids of Union, N. J.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Perelle of Seahurst, Wash., and Mrs. Dorothy Bailey of New Castle.

Friends will be received by the family at the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, Wednesday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock, Thursday afternoon from 2 until 4 and Thursday evening from 7 until 9.

Funeral services will be conducted from the mortuary Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. D. L. Ferguson, D. D., pastor of Highland church, officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. John S. Bauder.

Mrs. Nettie Powell Bauder, aged 67, wife of John Samuel Bauder, 1040 Beckford street, passed away Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Invalid's home, 919 Lorain avenue, after a three year illness.

Mrs. Bauder was born in Middle Lancaster, Butler County, on May 9, 1872, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powell. She had lived in New Castle for the past 25 years and on March 6, had been married for 51 years to John Samuel Bauder, who survives her. She was a member of the Portersville Presbyterian church.

In addition to her husband, she leaves the following children, Mrs. Blaine Scheidemantle of Portersville, Herman Bauder of Philadelphia, William Bauder of New Castle, Carl Bauder of Philadelphia, Mrs. Roy Scheidemantle of New Castle, Mrs. Clifford Love of New Castle; three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Agnes Weir of Youngstown, Mrs. Bell Crawford of Ravenna, O., Mrs. Celia Bauder of Kent, O., Curtis Powell of Youngstown, William Powell of Ellwood City; 21 grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the Cunningham funeral home, corner of East Washington and Chestnut streets, with Rev. George Cheeseman officiating. Interment will be in Portersville cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home Thursday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock and Thursday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Michael A. Ferry.

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Ferry, aged 47, wife of Michael A. Ferry, 720 East Long avenue, passed away Tuesday afternoon at 1:50 in the Jameson Memorial hospital after a four months' illness. Death was caused by complications.

Mrs. Ferry, born August 18, 1893, in Cleveland, O., the daughter of Carl and Lena Sciano McIltrot, had been a resident of New Castle almost all her life. She had been married to Mr. Ferry for 34 years.

Surviving are her husband; four sons, Nicholas, Charles and David, New Castle, and John, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Clifford Clingensmith, Mrs. John Santangelo and Mrs. Tony Moses; two brothers, Charles and Sullivan McIltrot, all of New Castle; and eleven grandchildren.

The body is being removed to the home this afternoon from the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, North Jefferson street. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Edmund D. Mechling.

Mrs. Stella Hudson Mechling, aged 68, Butler avenue extension, wife of Edmund D. Mechling, passed away this morning at 11:10 at her home after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Mechling was born in Indiana county, Pa., on July 13, 1871, daughter of John and Nancy Shaffer Hudson. She was a member of the Worthington, Pa., Methodist church.

If she had lived until tomorrow, April 25, she would have been married 40 years to Edmund D. Mechling, who survives her. She had been in New Castle for the past 37 years.

In addition to her husband, she leaves one brother, Harry Hudson, of Boston, Mass.

The body will be at the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, until Thursday morning, when it will be removed to the residence. Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

Scott Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Scott, Green street, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Crunkleton funeral home, West Falls street. Rev. N. L. Meeks, pastor of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, was in charge, assisted by Deacon William Weeks.

Appropriate musical selections were offered by the Second Baptist church senior choir, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas and Mrs. Carrie Ferguson, who sang a duet, and Mrs. Addie Brown, soloist.

Pallbearers were J. F. Williams, B. B. Richardson, L. Edwards, Archie Eggleston, William Weeks and Charles Croxton.

Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

Douthitt Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Douthitt, Wampum, R. D. 1, were conducted from the Chewton Christian church Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock with Rev. Charles Durbin in charge.

During the services, the church choir sang three appropriate selections.

Pallbearers were C. C. Sharp, Roy Douthitt, W. M. Aber, Clem Davidson, Raymond Leight and C. L. Repman.

Interment was in United cemetery, Pittsburgh.

REISING WINS OVER O'NEILL

ond of Mahoning, is not included. These will not change the result, if they follow the trends in adjoining precincts in their counties. The tabulation follows:

Lawrence county, 99 out of 100 precincts:

O'Neill	2919
Reising	1197
Katcher	991

Beaver county, 107 of 108 precincts:

O'Neill	727
Reising	4073
Katcher	1387

Butler county, 85 precincts:

O'Neill	1832
Reising	688
Katcher	594

Attorney Elmer O'Neill of New Castle ran a magnificent race, delighting his friends. Had he received any kind of a break in Beaver county, he would have won, as he carried Lawrence and Butler counties.

State Senate

Upon the face of the unofficial returns J. K. McQuiddy of New Castle seems to have won the Democratic nomination to the State Senate. The race betwene Mr. McQuiddy and Assemblyman Carmi G. Preston is so close yet that it may take the official count to determine it, and the figures quoted below do not include all the vote.

The unofficial figures show McQuiddy with 4,390 votes, Preston with 4,291, and Adam Pszenny with 2,937. These figures are the totals of 99 out of 100 Lawrence county precincts, the missing precinct being the second of Mahoning township. This precinct Mr. Preston should win. The Beaver county total represents 107 out of 108 precincts, plus a partial count in the second precinct of Midland, which is running seven to one for McQuiddy due to the CIO endorsement he has and the precinct being overwhelmingly CIO. The tabulation, which we repeat again, is unofficial, follows:

Lawrence county, 99 out of 100 precincts:

Carmi G. Preston	2273
Adam Pszenny	2029
J. K. McQuiddy	966

Beaver county, 107 out of 108 precincts:

J. K. McQuiddy	3211
Carmi G. Preston	1980
Adam Pszenny	908

To the Beaver county figures The News has secured a partial count of the second precinct of Midland. This gives McQuiddy 213 and Preston 38. There are nearly as many votes yet to count as have been counted, but the proportion for McQuiddy is expected to obtain, according to Beaver county newspaper men. The partial count for Pszenny was not given, but it would not add any considerable number to his total.

Delegates to Convention

The delegates chosen to the Democratic national convention are Martin Schulte of Beaver county, 8,268; Mel George, Enon Valley, 7,334, and Willis M. Ruby of Butler county, 6,983. The tabulation follows:

Lawrence county:

Mel George	2778
Ruby	2071
Schulte	1650

Beaver county:

Schulte	5499
George	3239
Ruby	2523

Butler county:

Ruby	2389
George	1317
Schulte	1119

SWEDISH DEFENSE LOAN ANNOUNCED

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, April 24.—The Swedish government today announced a 500,000,000 kroner ($115,000,000) defense loan, the largest in the nation's history.

PHILADELPHIA GIVES BIG EDGE TO SEN. GUFFEY

less than even Republican Gov. Arthur H. James was given among the Democrats. Postmaster General James Farley received four votes and Secretary of State Cordell Hull three.

In write-in presidential voting on the Republican side, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York collected 718 votes to 25 for James, 64 for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and 41 for Sen. Arthur H. Vandenburg of Michigan.

Cooke trampled over unorganized opposition in the GOP side of the election by polling 177,756 votes for the senatorial nomination against 39,389 for Albert H. Ladner of Philadelphia and 6,407 for John A. De Renzo of Altoona.

Guffey Vote Surprise

Assuring him state victory, Guffey's majority came as a surprise even to his most ardent backers in the face of claims by Jones supporters that the latter would carry the city by at least 25,000. Cooke himself took Guffey's win as a major New Deal endorsement, declaring as the returns rolled in:

"If Guffey carries Philadelphia, you can take it as a New Deal victory." Later he added, "I'm sorry to see it because I'd rather run against Jones."

In the Republican contest for nomination for state treasurer, James H. Malone of Pittsburgh won easily, receiving 169,549 votes. James N McKee, Johnstown manufacturer, got 18,666 and Robert Pratt, Pittsburgh, 14,987. Among the Democrats, Harold Wagner, Wilkes-Barre, backed by Jones, received 68,801; Owen D. Hunt, Philadelphia, former state insurance commissioner, 29,261; Jackson B. Scarl, Lehigh county, 9,865.

Sen. Fred T. Gelder of Susquehanna county received overwhelming support as GOP organization candidate for the auditor general nomination. The figures: Gelder, 154,659; Frank P. B. Thompson, Philadelphia, 31,878; Loyde D. Boden, Northumberland county, 10287.

State Treasurer F. Clair Ross received 84,363 ballots for the Democratic nomination for auditor general. Joseph D. Burke, Philadelphia, and D. M. Livingston, Delaware county, received 16,057 and 7,150 respectively, although they withdrew as active candidates last week.

Transient Demands Keep Mission Busy

Transient activity during March and the first two weeks of April kept City Rescue Mission attendants rushed, Superintendent Archie Gibson reported today. In March 775 meals were provided and 348 beds furnished. Early April brought a demand for 500 meals and 275 beds. Three stranded families were given aid, and a young lady, financially distressed while enroute through here, was assisted on her way.

JOINT CLUB PARTY HONORS MRS. HEATON

One of the loveliest of the "farewells" given for Mrs. C. H. Heaton of 314 Park avenue was the luncheon which took place in a local tea room Tuesday, by members of two clubs, the Tuesday and N. H. B. Kensingtons. Twenty-five guests were seated at a large "T" shaped table, which presented a lovely picture with a centerpiece of spring flowers. Dainty favors marked each place.

After partaking of a delicious luncheon, the honor guest was presented with two beautiful gifts, a petit-point evening bag from the Tuesdays, and an electric clock from the N. H. B.'s. In presenting the clock, Mrs. C. L. Martin read an appropriate poem, composed by Mrs. Harry Cook.

Miss Beulah Heaton, recently returned missionary from the Philippine Islands, was a special guest. Mrs. W. H. Williams, on behalf of both organizations, presented Miss Heaton with a pair of book-ends. After fitting responses from Mrs. Heaton and Beulah, a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs Ada Haydon, president of the Tuesday group, and Mrs. C. L. Martin, president of the N. H. B., had charge of the arrangements.

The Heatons expect to leave the city next Tuesday for New Kensington, where Dr. Heaton has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist church of that city.

N. B. W. CLUB HAS DINNER MEETING

A tureen dinner featured the regular meeting of N. B. W. club members Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Kay Smith, Ray street. In serving the delicious dinner, the hostess was aided by Jane Smith.

Bridge provided the after-dinner pastime, with awards for high score being won by Kathleen Shuttleworth and Jane Smith. Special guests at the meeting were Lois Chaddock and Kay Parfitt.

Next club meeting will be Tuesday evening, May 7, with Jane McClintock as hostess.

FLORIDA WEDDING NEWS OF INTEREST

Word is received here telling of the marriage of Mrs. Harriet George of Lakeworth, Fla., fromerly a resident of New Castle, and L. J. Ebel, also of Florida.

The ceremony took place on April 20 this year at Lakeworth, and the couple are now residing at 216 North D street, in Lakeworth.

BIRTHDAY RECEPTION FOR PLAINGROVE WOMAN

Mrs. Monira Sankey of Plaingrove will celebrate her eighty-fifth birthday on Saturday, April 27, in greeting friends and enjoying a family dinner.

Mrs. Sankey, the widow of the late J. E. Sankey, has spent all of her married life except two years on the Sankey farm, where she now resides. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shoaf she attended Painter Hill School and the Neshannock U. P. church.

At the age of eighteen she married John E. Sankey, and they went to housekeeping near New Castle, but in a year moved to the Sankey farm where Mrs. Sankey has lived sixty-five years.

She is in good health and is still very active, doing most of her own housework. She enjoys company and will be glad to greet her friends and relatives who wish to call on her.

Mrs. Sankey is the mother of six children, and five of them plan to be with her Saturday to celebrate her birthday.

Cameo Club

The Cameo club met Tuesday evening in the home of Dolly Ann Pierz, 1012 Ashland avenue. Cards were the pastime, with prizes going to Bernadine Sergan and Charlotte Wellendorf.

Assisting the hostess in serving lunch were Jane Pierz and Louise Szymanski.

May 14 Jane Cwynar will entertain the club at her Winslow avenue home.

QUEEN ESTHERS MEET AT BIGLEY RESIDENCE

About 50 attended the mite box opening meeting of the Queen Esther Auxiliary, First Methodist church, in the home of the Misses Mary and Martha Bigley, Milton street, Tuesday evening. Mrs. William Shaddick had charge.

After Miss Adeline Marshall conducted the opening, Miss Alma Locke, president, was in charge, and Mrs. John Louden gave an interesting review of a chapter in the study book, "Homeland and Harvests."

Delegates were appointed for the district convention in Sharon on May 10 as follows: Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer, Mrs. Ed. Hoye and Miss Alma Wolverton.

At the close, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess committee composed of Mrs. Leon Fink, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Hugh Robison, Mrs. I. Miller Henley, Mrs. May Matthews, Miss Margaret Garvin and Miss Martha Bigley.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY APPOINTS DELEGATES

Delegates to the 21st annual convention of West Conference of Pittsburgh Synod, to be held at Grace Lutheran church, Butler, on Wednesday, May 1, were appointed when members of the Women's Missionary Society, St. John's Lutheran church, gathered Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. C. R. Thompson, Euclid avenue.

Those appointed were Mrs. J. W. Trent and Mrs. William Gustafson, with Mrs. Charles Rick and Mrs. C. R. Thompson, alternates.

Mrs. A. J. Gavroy opened the meeting with an inspiring discussion of the topic, "Women And The Way in South America".

Plans were made for India lace day to be held May 5 and for the society to have a tea on May 28. Mrs. Edna Wood will be the leader at this event and the program committee consists of Miss Stella Diefenderfer and Miss Mary Riffer. Miss Margaret Bechtol, a missionary from Porto Rico, will be guest speaker, and Mrs. John Baer and aides will have charge of the social period.

At the close of the meeting, tasty refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lockley.

FULLER CIRCLE HAS MITE BOX OPENING

Fuller Circle members of Croton Methodist church had their mite box opening meeting in the form of a tureen dinner Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Ward Sizer, Cascade street.

Mrs. John Wilson, mite box secretary, conducted the meeting and a playlet was presented with the following taking part: Mrs. Clarence Reiber, Mrs. Elgin McConnell, Mrs. Sizer, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. T. E. McCreary.

Mrs. I. C. Abernathy of Sharon, head of the Queen Esthers, was guest speaker and told of the work of these societies. One new member, Mrs. Richard Blaine, was welcomed into the circle.

YOUNG PIANIST TO GIVE RECITAL

Miss Idagenne Jolene Mitchell will give a piano recital at the First Presbyterian church, corner of Falls and Jefferson streets on Thursday evening, April 25.

Idagenne Mitchell

Miss Mitchell, 14-year-old pupil, will present a program of old classic and modern compositions. Eileen Broderick, 14-year-old soprano, will assist on the program. The public is invited to hear the program at 8 o'clock.

PATTERSON-JOHNSTON ENGAGEMENT REVEALED

At an informal party given Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson Sr., of 220 Smithfield street, announcement was made of the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Blair Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva C. Johnston of 522 West Clayton street.

Mrs. Patterson was hostess, inviting a group of friends of the honoree, who joined in a program of informal diversions during the early period. Prizes were carried off by Mrs. Albert Harnick, Mrs. Peter Hillers and Mrs. Alva Johnston.

Refreshments were served to guests number twenty-four at a suitable time, when the news was cleverly told. Each was given a miniature match folder as a favor, which read on the outside cover "It's A Match" and when opened, lettering revealed the names of "Ann And Blair, June 15."

Mrs. Johnston was a special participant of the occasion.

M. E. BIBLE CLASS PLANS FOR BANQUET

Members of the Bordon Bible class of the First Methodist church will hold their regular annual meeting and banquet Friday evening in the church.

The committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Baer, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Carvey and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miner, has arranged for a turkey dinner.

Newly elected officers willl be installed and a most interesting program has been planned.

MARGARET MILLER TENDERED SURPRISE

Margaret Miller was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a group of young folks gathered at her home on Randolph street to help observe her birthday anniversary. Her mother, Mrs. Judson Miller, was hostess.

Games and dancing claimed the attention after which the guests were invited to the dining room, where they enjoyed a delicious repast. Mrs. Miller was assisted by Mrs. James Shultz, Mrs. Philip Thomas and Mrs. Earl Miller.

The honored one was the recipient of many useful and lovely gifts in honor of the happy occasion.

Anniversary Dinner

Mrs. C. F. Morrow of Wampum entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turner and family of New Castle, who are celebrating their 22nd wedding anniversary.

The evening was spent informally. Special guest of the evening was Mrs. W. D. Dickson of Wampum.

EAST BROOK GARDEN CLUB HEAR SPEAKERS

East Brook Garden club members were entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Harry Kelly at Lakewood, with Mrs. Omar Fink sharing as co-hostess. Mrs. S. A. Black, vice-president, presided during the routine period.

A program was given under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Waddington, chairman. Roll call was answered with "A wild flower best suited for the garden".

A guest speaker, the assemblage heard an interesting address given by Walter Gross of the Pennsylvania Power company. He gave an informative talk on "Electricity and Plant Growth", illustrating with pictures.

Mrs. Harry Sturdevant was introduced, and she contributed a report of the "Garden Forum".

Mrs. J. A. Young, another speaker, chose for her subject "Accommodating Trillium", giving descriptions of the different species of the flower.

Mrs. Harold Allen pleased with her address on "Fascinating Mexico". She included in her talk highlights of old Mexico and dwelt on the history of its settlers.

Miss Edna Waddington as the next speaker, gave a talk on "Meet Jack's Cousins", her talk being woven around the plants that are related to the "Jack In-the-Pulpit" family. They were the calla lily, skunk cabbage, devils tongue and dumb cain.

A guessing contest on "articles used in the garden" created much interest, with prizes going to Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Edna Kennedy and Miss Edna Waddington.

Special guest of the occasion was a former member, Mrs. Merle Stetson and her daughter Sally of Girard, O.

Lunch was served at the close by the hostess, and plans were outlined for their next regular meeting to be held Tuesday, May 28, with Mrs. Charles Cornman of Volant. Her daughter Edith will share as joint hostess.

REPORTING WAR LOSSES

CANDOR about his own losses is not to be expected from either belligerent. That is one of the reasons why it is so hard for the public to determine exactly what is happening in Norway. Two weeks ago the British Admiralty announced the destruction of the German destroyer fleet of seven ships in Narvik harbor.

For days thereafter Berlin refused to confirm the details of the battle. Finally a German account of the events in Narvik harbor was given out. Said a wounded German officer who had been flown to Berlin:

"Then came the major attack. Our destroyers, still ready for a fight, warded off an enemy tremendously superior to us until the last grenade and last torpedo had been fired."

Note that phrase, "until the last grenade and last torpedo had been fired." What happened then? Berlin won't tell. Another German account of the same battle concluded in this fashion:

"As the result of this action enemy superiority was unable to sink a single German ship so long as it still had ammunition."

"So long as it still had ammunition." How many were sunk after that? Again, the Germans won't say, although much other evidence available supports the report of the British Admiralty as to the sinking of the destroyers.

Similar evasions from the Allies may be expected if wartime exigencies demand them.

CANADA TAKES OVER

A survey of world trade discloses that Canada has now taken over most of the export business in wheat and flour. In the seven months ended March 1, shipments from Canada totaled 108,104,456 bushels, of which the British Isles absorbed 67,000,000 bushels. Other purchasers were Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, Sweden, Finland, Japan, China, Philippines, West Indies, Central and South America.

More than fifty countries and colonies now appear on Canada's export wheat list.

Argentina has been exporting so heavily that its surplus will soon be exhausted. Australia is out of the running with too long a haul and a tie-up of shipping. Canada will have the upper hand for some time to come because a record-breaking surplus can still be drawn upon and a new crop is coming on to replenish it.

Canada can block the United States out of world wheat markets for some months. But sooner or later, the affairs of the world continuing as they are, United States wheat will be in heavy demand. War always reaches out for every available supply. And eventually it will be found that the only available supply is in the United States.

KILLED ON AN ERRAND OF MERCY

While the special duty of Captain Losey, attache of the United States Legation in Stockholm who was killed by a German bomb splinter, was to act as military and aerial observer, he met death while on an errand of mercy.

He was in Norway to aid in removing a party of Americans from the war zone. Apparently he was the sole American casualty, the first citizen of this country to be killed on land since the beginning of the European war.

At the age of 31, Captain Losey already had attained the rank of our air force's leading meterological expert and was entering upon a career of the brightest promise. Although this Nation is at peace and determined to remain so, this tragic incident is a reminder of the perils constantly surrounding our military and diplomatic representatives in the line of duty.

They cannot leave their posts, but it is imperative that all private American citizens depart from the danger zones with the least possible delay. The official warning given to American residents of Hungary, as yet untouched by the war, suggests the wisdom of departing from the scenes of potential peril.

CONFUCIUS SAID

When Confucius died in 479 B. C., at the age of 73, he died unhonored. His striving was a simple one—to make people good. It has been put that he sought a good father, a good mother, a good son, a good daughter, a good friend, a good citizen. His truths were unpalatable at the time, but palatable now is Confucius, at least in the United States.

The sudden sweep of apothegms attributed to Confucius is one of those American fads, one of those manifestations of the American mass mind, that would be difficult to explain to a foreigner. How could one tell a German refugee savant, for example, that the American version of what Confucius said is not what Confucius said at all, but what the American people are saying to themselves, sometimes with the accent of Rabelais?

This present devotion to the wisdom of an Oriental sage is a characteristic American "gag." But who among those who quote Confucius knows what Confucius said? He was, after all, a great teacher, whose ethical concepts have justified themselves to the minds of men for more than two millenia.

Pretending to no original knowledge of Confucius, an inquisitive one has taken the trouble to read him since the present fad set in. With the current idiom in mind, what Confucius said seems in some cases solemn, pretentious and even absurd. However, in the eighth book of his Analects, the Confucius researcher ran across a sentence that seemed to have a particular message for this troubled political world.

Confucius said: "Good government obtains when those who are near are made happy, and those who are far are attracted." There is an archaic, almost Grecian, strength to this statement of the object of government—to make those who are near happy, to attract those who are far. And are not most men, in their indifference, rather like Confucius' king, to whom the question was put: "If within the borders of your kingdom there is not good government, what is to be done?"

"The king," Confucius said, "looked to right and left and spoke of other matters."

War may not be imminent in the Balkans but the stage hands are certainly shifting the scenery around.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHARACTER IN THE GARDEN

Child character as well as roses can be cultivated in the garden. The growing child who finds enjoyment among the plants and flowers he has helped to care for learns to be careful of other people's plants and flowers, and other property of the neighborhood. What a fine character service the public schools have rendered through their school gardens.

Not so many children, however, are gardeners at home. Their parents rarely give them the opportunity or exercise the skill and patience necessary to win the child's co-operation and persistence in the garden.

The child from five to 10 i more ready to work in the garden than the older child, as a rule. But if this younger child is to help in the garden or care for his own plot there, he will need sympathetic, patient guidance. Most parents regard a child in the garden as a kind of nuisance, messing things up. They prefer to do all the gardening themselves and have the youngster out of the way. They are thinking more about the garden than the child.

Small Plot At First

Wise parents begin early with the tot, giving him a small plot and helping him as much as necessary, no more, in its planting and care. At first this plot is very small, but gets larger as the child grows older and learns to take responsibility for it.

Whether four or nine, the child who at first is very enthusiastic, watching the plants coming through the group from the seed or developing from the stocks transplanted there, watering them, stirring the soil about them and keeping down the weeds, may lose interest and neglect his garden. Skillful parents may be able to keep this interest of the child alive, especially by inducing him to work in the garden at the time the parent does. But alas! many a parent will choose to cultivate the child's garden for him rather than take the trouble to cultivate responsibility in the child for its care.

As with pets, the child's early enthusiasm may wholly disappear unless a way is found to keep it alive. When this happens and he wholly abandons the enterprise, he may be far worse off morally than if he had never begun with it.

Not many children old enough to operate a lawn mover keep the home lawn clipped on their own free will and accord. Like duties inside the house, this one usually needs to be assigned and supervised somewhat. When, however, Dad and the boy or girl do the lawn together, taking turns at the mover and the shears, the child may readily co-operate, if he is able to budget his time for it according to a definite program.

Whether the child can be counted on to care for the lawn without argument will depend on whether he had learned earlier to take responsibility indoors for doing regular jobs. Well-educated at home in earlier years, the child old enough to do the lawn has learned to do certain regular inescapable jobs about the home because he is a member of the family. Other things he has volunteered to do because he found satisfaction in co-operating in an atmosphere of family companionship.

No matter how much money his parents have, a growing boy or girl, for the best character education, needs to have certain definite, regular, inescapable jobs about the home—if at no other time, when it is the maid or gardener's day off. But let no parent suppose that such jobs can always or even generally be made wholly attractive.

This is an age when the younger generation feels less and less responsibility for the older generation. Therefore, it is one in which we should all, rich or poor, insure our security for those lean years when our girls and boys will be moving not to a house with guest rooms but an apartment with no spare room in which the old folks will be comfortable. And this is an age when the boss often calls in a corporation doctor or some other so-called efficiency expert who tells him to throw out into the street this faithful employee who has reached sixty or that faithful employee, who looks anemic. Therefore, if you want to safeguard your years of poor health, of middle age, of senility, against misery, it behooves you to begin, as soon as you are out of school, to buy a sound policy that gives you an annuity when you are fifty or sixty. If you will paste this advice in your family Bible and take it you will one day call me blessed for giving it.

Dear Miss Markel: There is always a doubt in my mind about the etiquette of smoking. Should I offer a cigarette to a woman whose reaction to this practice I do not know: or might she, if she condemns the practice think me presumptuous or forward?—Bill.

Answer: Even though she condemns the practice of smoking, she should not consider your offer of a cigarette forward or a breach of etiquette. If she does not smoke or even if she disapproves she should merely politely decline, showing no attitude of reproach.

What's What At A Glance

Roosevelt Stirs Up Isolationists
Critics Are Riled By War Comment
Senators Nye And Frazier Aroused

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Senators Gerald Nye and Lynn Frazier, both of North Dakota, naturally are the two solons who take the bitterest exception to President Roosevelt's public condemnation, recently, of Germany's invasion of Denmark and Norway.

Parenthetically, the president didn't actually name Germany, but there was no doubt as to the country he was referring to.

Of course, there isn't a lawmaker in Washington who isn't dead set against any American participation in the European conflict, but some are more super-isolationists than others. The extra-super group holds that Uncle Sam shouldn't let out even a peep concerning the war, so long as it's raging. The less extreme element thinks we're entitled to express our sympathies between the belligerents.

It goes almost without saying that Senators Nye and Frazier belong in the former category. Senator Nye, after a prolonged investigation of the causes which, he believes, led us into the last war, was the author of our original airtight neutrality law. It was somewhat modified, at this session of Congress, but Nye fought its modification like fury.

"Unconstitutional" War

Senator Frazier, several years ago, put up a stiff campaign for a United States constitutional amendment to make war outright unconstitutional, so far as Uncle Samuel's concerned. How he figured that the United States constitution could make it unconstitutional for some other country to attack us never was very clear in my mind.

I asked Frazier about it, inquiring if he didn't think we should resist even if invaded. His reply was that no country on earth would be barbarous enough to attack another country where war was unconstitutional. Such a thing, he said, literally would be an impossibility. I wasn't altogether convinced. Neither was Congress; it didn't vote to submit the proposed Frazier amendment.

Anyway, it's understandable why a couple of senators with these backgrounds are adversely critical of the latest presidential utterance on the subject of Germany's Danish and Norwegian invasions.

The fact that Nye and Frazier both are North Dakotans is a mere coincidence.

Foresee Danger

Incidentally, Nye and Frazier have considerable congressional support in their contention that the presidential statement at best was unnecessary and that, at worst, it's a dangerous direction, from the stand-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

FREEDOM VS. LICENSE

Bertrand Russell, English philosopher, author and lecturer, attached to the faculty of the University of California, at Los Angeles, has just been banned from lecturing at the College of the City of New York because he is "indecent."

The injunction was executed by the Supreme Court of New York at the behest of New Yorkers on the grounds that the Professor "was an alien and an advocate of sexual immorality." The lawyer charged that Russell ran an English nudist colony, went in for salacious poetry and winked at homosexuality. Referring to the books Russel had written the attorney described his writings as "lecherous, salacious, libidinous, lustful, venerous, erotomaniac, aphrodisia, atheistic, irreverent, narrow-minded, untruthful and bereft of moral fiber."

In plainer words, it was charged that the Professor approved of childless, or companionate marriage among students as having a quieting, broadening and beneficial influence.

With all these charges heaped on the shoulders of the distinguished educator, many of his colleagues came rushing to his aid and rescue. They included Robert Sproul, President of the University of California; Robert Hutchins, President of the University of Chicago; Professor Albert Einstein of relativity fame, Madam Mildred McAfee, President of Wellesley girls school; Dr. John Dewey, renowned Columbia University philosopher and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Quite a bunch of highbrows, and in a thundering noise they declaim that Professor Russell's "academic freedom" is being imposed upon. Those opposing the Professor as being a bit liberal in his moral logic are tossed aside with a sneer that they are "just old fashioned" and that the only thing the matter with the Professor is that he is simply a few years ahead of his time.

It leaves one, who at least assumes a polite respect for time-honored conventions between the sexes, somewhat out on the limb disappointed and unhappy. Perhaps they were born too soon.

The affair brings up the age-old question of what is Freedom and what is License? Does freedom of the press, freedom of speech freedom of the teacher to teach his ideas, good, bad or indifferent mean something that must be adhered to irrespective of the consequences? There is a point where the exercise of freedom of speech becomes very vicious and very obnoxious to the whole body politic. Just now in the schools "Red" doctrines are taught and the schools seem very jealous of their prerogative of freedom, but young men and young women are being taught to be Revolutionists. Now Russell has some other obnoxious deas that he wshes to teach.

Is all this good?

The Great Game Of Politics

Providing A Plank

Washington, April 24.

IT is not too much to say that the little group of New Dealers who run things in Washington are in a state of fury over the passage by the House of the Walter-Logan bill and the prospect of its passage in the Senate. If a way can be found to prevent the latter, it will be done.

ALREADY they are marshaling every Administration resource to that end. The President, though he says he has not read the bill, has declared against it. The journalistic reflectors are doing their smearing best and the heat is being put on Administration Senators in a way not attempted before this session. The truth is that the so-called "inner circle" seethes with resentment over this bill. The reason is clear—it more directly hits these young "intellectual liberals," as they like to call themselves, who exert so much influence through their closeness to the President, than any other Congressional proposal that can be recalled.

ALMOST from the beginning of the Roosevelt regime the studied strategy of the well-known firm of Corcoran and Cohen has been to acquire power through the manipulation and control of the principal New Deal boards and commissions affected by the bill, and which have become so large and vital a part of the Government. Working through the President, they have put men of their own selection in key positions on and under such agencies as the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Communications Commission and others. Whenever a vacancy occurred on an old board or a new board was created, Mr. Corcoran and Mr. Cohen promptly were on hand with a recommendation. So consistently have these been adopted that it has come to be recognized as established custom.

JUST a few days ago correspondents in close touch with the White House and extremely friendly to the Messrs. Corcoran and Cohen announced that the President would not fill the vacancy on the SEC caused by the resignation of Mr. Matthews until Mr. Corcoran returned from his wedding trip. That Mr. Corcoran would name the new commissioner was taken as a matter of course. The extent to which Mr. Corcoran and his partner have consolidated their influence in these boards and the extent to which the boards have become the Government is not appreciated by the general public, but it is appreciated by every informed person in Washington. The Walter-Logan bill will restrict the power of these boards, and that will lessen the power of the young gentlemen who systematically have been packing them with their friends.

IT will do this by providing for judicial review by the courts of the acts and decisions of these boards which appear based on unfair or illegal procedure. It will protect individuals from arbitrary and prejudiced disregard of their rights. It will enable a man who has been treated unjustly and without proper hearing or consideration of the facts to appeal to the courts—if he can prove injustice. In brief, it will end

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

GRANDPA MADNESS

There are things which I should do,
Little fellow, but for you
There are letters I should write
Bits of verse I should indite,
But instead this livelong day
Here am I with you at play

I hope never by and by
You will learn I told a lie;
Told a banker, most sedate,
I'd a most important date.
Uttered falsehood just to stay
Here an hour with you to play.

Little fellow, never learn
That I failed my own concern;
Telephoned the girl to tell
That I wasn't feeling well;
Said a thing which isn't true
Just to spend the day with you.

Now should this yet noised around,
That my mind's no longer sound,
It is all because of you
And the artful things you do.
Undeniably past cure!
It's the grandpa madness, sure!

Sharon Boys To Face Charges In Two Counties

Mercer Co. Robberies And Burglary At New Wilmington Cause Dual Accusations

State motor police last night returned to Sharon four high school boys who the state motor police said would be charged with burglary not only in Mercer county but also Lawrence county, the result of robberies which range over a year.

The boys are:

William Grabesky, George Bees, Charles Fischer, and John McCormick, all of Sharon.

After the boys are charged with burglary in Mercer county they will be brought here and charged similarly as the result of the Meek jewelry store robbery at New Wilmington, Saturday night. After being arranged here, detainers will be filed by Lawrence county authorities with Mercer county authorities, the motor police stated.

The boys confessed 18 alleged robberies in Sharon and admitted taking "25 or 30 automobiles" for joyriding. They also confessed the New Wilmington robbery the police asserted.

Considerable of the loot has been recovered.

They were arrested by State Motor Policemen Klare, McCullough, Sharon Police Chief Stegar following information the motor police, Sheriff M. M. Ingham and New Wilmington Police Chief Glenn Martin obtained in New Wilmington after they received word of the jewelry store robbery.

Japs Warned Not To Inter-Marry

Japanese Leader Warns Against Assimilation Of Invaders By Chinese

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEKING, China.—If Japan is to avoid total absorption by China, her people must not inter-marry with the Chinese. This warning came from Dr. Tomosaburo Takagi as his contribution to the argument. Some Japanese circles think that their proposed New Order in East Asia can be hastened by mixture of the two races.

"China is much stronger numerically than Japan, with a population of 400,000,000 against not more than 80,000,000 of pure Japanese blood," he argued. "Granting that Japanese, blood is transmitted at the same rate as Chinese blood, it will be easy to see that the Japanese, who are almost hopelessly outnumbered by the Chinese, will become assimilated by the latter."

"According to ethnological experts, the power of transmission of the Chinese is much greater than that of the Japanese. If this be true, there is more reason for believing that the Japanese race will be completely assimilated in the future," continued Dr. Takagi.

He further advanced the theory that according to the laws of heredity, a race of a single strain is more readily absorbed than a race of mixed blood. Since his own people are relatively unmixed as compared with the Chinese, the Doctor is convinced that the Japanese would speedily lose their own characteristics through marriage with the Chinese.

Therefore, Dr. Takagi urged that Japan follow Hitler's preachment for preservation of a pure race.

point of Uncle Sam's continued physical neutrality.

The Allies also are accused of having more or less justified Germany's Scandinavian move by mining Norway's territorial waters, in violation of Norwegian neutrality. The argument is that Norway, if really neutral, ought to have prevented it. To be sure, the Norwegians couldn't do so. They hadn't the strength to chase off the British mine-layers.

So, after all, wasn't Britain the first neutrality-violator?

International lawyers find it difficult to answer this question negatively.

Denmark's Position

Denmark wasn't doing any neutrality-violating.

The Danes are inside the Germans' Baltic pond. You can see that by a glance at the map. They didn't need to be invaded by Germany except to give the Germans a safe seaway into Norway.

Norway is Germany's objective. Denmark simply is stepped on incidentally.

In the long run, the Danes doubtless are good German grabbing, but, for the purpose of this particular war, they're just a highway to another goal.

Sweden—it would appear—can be attended to later by the Germans.

As to northern Sweden and Norway (Narvik), presumably the Germans and Russians will disagree ultimately. Just now they're acting in concert.

NORWAY TOWN IS WRECKED BY NAZI BOMBING

was prepared in advance and was carried out with discipline and good order.

Norwegian quarters in Stockholm heard with relief that substantial reinforcements had reached Fort Hegra, on the Trondheim railway line near the Swedish frontier.

Troops Advance

German troops continued to advance on Fort Hegra in a semi-circular movement, but Norwegian military authorities described the fort as impregnable and expressed confidence its defenders would ensure Allied control of this important railway indefinitely.

It was thought possible that German capture of Steinkjer might compel alterations in the Allied plan for an early major assault on Trondheim.

It was considered possible, however, that the withdrawal may have been a strategic one, the British and Norwegians giving way before superior Nazi forces.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A German communique reported capture of Steinkjer after a "brief battle.")

Latest advices said the British and Norwegians had taken up new positions north of the town.

Meanwhile, other Allied detachments were reported massing at various points north of Trondheim for what may prove a battle of major proportions.

Tightening Pincers

Berlin, April 24.—Using the same strategy that broke the back of the Polish army, German troops in Norway are tightening a pincers grip on British and Norwegian forces in the so-called Hamar-Elverum rectangle, Nazi military authorities asserted today.

In substantiation of claims that the Allies suffered a "crushing defeat" at Lillehammer yesterday, Nazi sources made known that several junkers transport planes loaded with Canadian prisoners had landed in Berlin.

The prisoners were taken immediately to regional concentration camps, it was said.

The vast extent of the British defeat was portrayed in an official announcement claiming the capture of 20 machine-guns, six anti-tank guns and 1,000,000,000 rounds of infantry ammunition. The latter of British origin.

The same communique forecast a large-scale British troop landing attempt at German-held Narvik and announced the arrival of British naval reinforcements as well as troop transports off the Norwegian port.

Forestalled Casualties

Stockholm, April 24.—Allied withdrawal from the town of Steinkjer 60 miles north of Trondheim, was a strategic retreat and hasty evacuation forestalled civilian casualties when German troops captured it, the Norwegian chief of staff in the Steinkjer area told a correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda today.

(Editor's note: Hours earlier, International News Service revealed the fall of Steinkjer after a terrific German bombardment in an exclusive dispatch from Stockholm.)

"From the beginning, the Norwegian and British command calculated that Steinkjer could not be held," the officer said.

The Great Game Of Politics

the exercise by these boards of absolute, unrestricted, unchecked and unrestrained power.

THIS is exactly the sort of power they have been—and are now—wielding. They not only have been making decisions which, no matter how unfair, could not be appealed but they also have been the sole interpreters of the law by which these boards were created. Thus, they have become judge, jury and prosecutor. Such a state of affairs was bound to result in the abuse of power and in belief among members of these boards in their own infallibility and superiority. It has bred arrogance and intolerance, and the frequent demonstrations of these qualities is the real reason the Walter-Logan bill was conceived.

IT is the reason the bill has been indorsed by so many bar associations, business organizations and individuals, and why it went through the House by a vote of nearly 3 to 1. The New Dealers assert that if passed the bill would "make hash out of the administrative machinery," but this seems an unsound argument, inasmuch as, without proof, the appeal from decisions of the boards would be expensive and futile. The counter-argument is that unless the boards act with gross unfairness and in disregard of the facts there would be no appeal and no slowing down of the administrative machinery.

IN TRUTH, the sole purpose of the bill is merely to impose a decent restraint upon members of these regulatory boards. The very violence of the reaction against it by the affected agencies is evidence of their dislike for restraint of any sort and is itself a good argument for the bill. If it comes to a vote, it will pass the Senate as it passed the House. The New Deal effort is either to smother the bill in committee or stall off action until the session adjourns. If this cannot be done, they threaten a Presidential veto on the ground that the bill is "badly drawn" and would cripple the work of the regulatory boards. If, by whatever means, they succeed in preventing action this session, they will have furnished the Republicans with one very sound plank for their platform and one fairly good issue. It is significant that this bill was sponsored not by Republicans, not even by anti-New Deal Democrats, but by Democrats who had a fairly consistent record of Administration support.

AROUND CITY HALL

In ye olden days it was no strange sight for one to see a defendant stand before the city hall bar of justice wearing a patch on his head as a result of a battering with a police night-stick. Howevr, it is seldom one sees such a sight nowadays.

"Police do not use their 'sticks' as much nowadays as in the old days, do they?" the chief of police, M. J. Young, was asked.

"No. It is seldom that a policeman must mace a prisoner," he replied.

"How do you account for it?" he was quizzed.

"The police are better trained now than they were in the old days," he explained.

"They are courteous, yet firm. However, they do not carry a 'chip on their shoulders' and naturally do not antagonize anyone with their actions," he concluded.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne is hopeful for the kind of weather that will result in the proposed improvement program getting under way. The city proposes to do considerable work and this will result in the employment of WPA and department of assistance workers. This will aid the businessmen because after all, it is money that makes the world go round.

There is always room in a police department for a man who can converse in languages in addition to English. In the city department of police is one man who fluently speaks four languages and can "get along" with another. He is John Golis. He speaks English, Polish, Slavish, Russian and can converse in Italian.

Demands Court-Martial For Rear Admiral Who Predicts U. S. Japan War

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Navy courtmartial proceedings against Rear Admiral Joseph K. Taussic for his U. S.-Japanese war prediction were demanded today by Senator Clark (D.) Mo.

Harshly critical, Clark led a chorus of bi-partisan congressional protest against the high-ranking naval officer's statement delivered before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee Monday, that war between this country and Japan is inevitable.

"Taussig's statement was a perfectly outrageous, indefensible exhibition of militarism, for which he should be courtmartialed," said Clark.

Senator Nye (R.) N. D., denounced the Taussig statement as "navy maneuver to get the United States to build more battleships." The committee was considering the house-approved naval expansion bill as Taussig spoke.

The admiral, a formal assistant chief of naval operations, now Norfolk Navy Yard commandant, told startled legislators that use of "economic and financial means and, if necessary, force," by the United States was justified to prevent Japanese conquest of China.

Official call-downs followed quickly. Both Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of the Navy Edison publicly announced that the officer was voicing only his personal views, and spoke for no department. But isolationists condemned the officer's words as "sword-swinging." Clark elaborated:

"This is the type of thing that has brought Japan into its present deplorable situation. The fact that they permit officers to dictate Japanese domestic policies is responsible for all the trouble in the Far East. This bugaboo of Taussig's is designed to persuade the Congress to build a bigger navy."

The Naval Affairs Committee apparently was opposed to the navy request for a 25 per cent expansion bill instead of the 11 per cent increase approved by the House, with hearings concluded, indications pointed to approval of the House bill.

The bill makes no money available, but authorizes construction of between 20 and 25 combat ships, in addition to the 19-ship immediate construction program for which money was made available in the 1941 navy supply bill.

Says Communist Radio Operators Active On Ships

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Fred M. Howe, a marine radio operator, today gave the Dies committee a list of radio stations and ships on which he said communist radio operators were active or formerly active.

Shore stations in which Howe said communists were "filtering in members," included:

NAM, a navy station at Norfolk; WSL, WSF and WMY in the New York region; WFC in New Jersey; WMW, a privately owned station in Philadelphia; WMH, owned by the city of Baltimore; and KOX in Los Angeles.

Howe also named men he said were communists who are serving or formerly served as ship operators. They included:

A man he identified only as "Stano," operator on the Sea Cloud, yacht of the U. S. ambassador to Belgium; Ben Rosset, on the S. S. Cristobel and later on the Mormack Gull; Joe Bellega, on the S. S. Manhatan; Bob Hay, formerly on the S. S. Washington; Joseph De La Hunt, on the S. S. Oriente; Jack Gotesfeld on the S. S. President Roosevelt, and Howard Strobel on the S. S. American Shipper.

PATAGONIA, Ariz. — The economic tides of this little mining community were sweeping upward again today as small mine operators and cattlemen again are seeking to wrest a living from the land. Within 50 people and a single bar of becoming a "Ghost Town" a couple of years ago, Patagonia now boasts more than 1,000 residents and another 500 would live here if there were facilities to care for them. A rise in mining and cattle prices is credited with reviving the town toward its heyday back in the 1850's.

Britain Acts To Halt Living Costs

By ROBERT NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Alarmed at sharply rising living costs and the possibility of wartime currency inflation, the British government has adopted an emergency subsidy system in the hope of curbing further abrupt rises in prices of staple food commodities.

Since the beginning of December, Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, revealed to the House of Commons, the government has been pegging prices downward at a cost of $4,000,000 weekly, or approximately $200,000,000 annually.

The cost of living has increased by 79 per cent over 1914, it was learned. Food prices particularly have advanced steeply since the outbreak of war last September.

Staple Foods Watched

The government's policy thus far has extended chiefly to controlling prices of such staple foods as bread, flour, meat and milk.

The announcement immediately brought charges in opposition quarters that the government was seeking to curb the advances in pay of the small wage earner.

But Sir John insisted the measure was designed to aid wage earners, and those with small fixed incomes and allowances, by checking the abruptness of rises in retail prices.

At the same time, it was learned that the rationing of clothing materials and a greater control of all products of civilian consumption are probable.

Further Measures Likely

Cabinet consideration is being given this wider aspect of economic warfare with the added probability that further measures will be taken to tighten economic presuure on Germany.

Appointment of Sir Andrew Duncan, president of the board of trade, to a cabinet post is forecast as the first step in this direction.

The strict rationing of articles of clothing is planned to release wool for export in order to build up foreign exchange for purchase of war supplies abroad.

At the same time, a drive for increased export trade with neutrals, in close collaboration with France, is being formulated with the same end in view.

TROOP 27

Girl Scouts of Troop 27 held a meeting Tuesday evening at the First United Presbyterian church.

Miss Rosina McGurk gave an interesting talk on Mexico. Many Mexican articles were shown to the scouts. Costumes for the pageant were decided upon, and patrol corners followed.

The meeting closed with taps.

Scribe, Jane Roberts.

SENIOR TROOP 4

The Senior Troop 4 met Monday evening at the Greer building with Mrs. Birney and Miss MacLean.

The election of officers were as follows:

President, Carol Stagno; vice president, Anna Colella; secretary and scribe, Edith Torsello; treasurer, Millie Torsella; game committees, Dora Naple, Mae De Lorenzo, Josephine Petrilli, Pauline De Foire.

Plans were made to raise money for uniforms. Next meeting will be April 29 at the Greer building.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Dr. Arthur M. Master, chairman of the Health Education Committee of the New York Heart Association, writes me that his organization is undertaking an intensive campaign to acquaint the public with the dangers of rheumatic fever in children. I am only too glad to co-operate in any such campaign, for I have seen the ravages of this disease much too often in the thirty-odd years I've been practising here in Northern Ontario. It is credited with being a principal cause of death among children between 5 and 15 years old in both the United States and Canada.

The thing that impresses most the doctors who have these cases of rheumatic fever to handle, is that it is a comparatively harmless sickness if parents will only recognize the symptoms of the disease and get medical treatment started before the heart of the victim is affected. It is the heart damage that makes rheumatic fever the scourge of youth in this country.

In more cases than I like to think of I have been called to see a child whose parents said it had been suffering from "growing pains" for some time, only to find that rheumatic fever had been pouring poison into the child's system for days and days, until the heart had been affected.

Attacks of the disease come as the result of some infection like diseased tonsils or adenoids. There is nearly always a history of continual colds in the head or tonsilitis.

The acute attack of rheumatic fever usually starts with, or directly after a head cold. In most cases the first symptoms are often pains in the joints, with the temperature going up to 101 or 102 degrees. The pain may not stay in one joint; often it jumps around from joint to joint.

I have seen a great many cases in which the pains started in the lower extremities—ankles and knees. When you examine the affected joint, you find it hot and swollen. It will be extremely tender to handle, and the skin over the joint is likely to be a fiery red. The pain may stay in this joint for a couple of days, and then disappear. Then it goes to another joint and acts in the same manner. There may be as many as two or three or even more joints affected at the same time, but usually, it moves about from joint to joint. No joint is immune from attack but we find ankles, hips, elbows, wrists and fingers most often involved. I recall having cases where the inflammation appeared in the patient's shoulders, but this is unusual.

When a child develops rheumatic fever, and no doctor is called to attend him, it is found that the joints become less and less painfull, until at the end of two or three weeks, he seems pretty well again. That is, his parents will think he is well, because his joints don't pain any more. But there is still the damage to the heart, which you can't see then, but which makes itself known later on.

So, if a member of your family develops these symptoms, which are often mistaken for "growing pains," call your doctor. If it isn't rheumatic fever, there's no harm done and if it is, you have saved a life, or relieved one of your dear ones from the burden of invalidism.

Has Headed Flag Day Campaign For Over Forty Years

William T. Kerr, Of Philadelphia, Has Devoted Lifetime To Honoring Flag

As the birth date of the national flag again nears, tribute has been paid again to William T. Kerr of Yeadon, a suburb of Philadelphia, in his selection to head the American Flag Day Association, who is the founder of the Flag Day movement, and its national head for 42 years.

The annual religious-patriotic program featuring Flag Week will take place in Washington chapel, Valley Forge, on Sunday afternoon, June 9, Flag Day week will be observed from June 8 to 14 with various forms of recognition to the flag.

Active since school days in Pittsburgh's public, civic and educational work, he was co-author with John R Farr of Scranton of Pennsylvania's first compulsory education and free text-book laws and through his patriotic activity generally is credited with having Flag Day being made a legal holiday in Pennsylvania by legislative enactment.

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, is a vice president of the National Flag Day Association.

Scout Leaders Meet Tuesday

Joint Meeting Held With Pageant Committee Tuesday Evening

Members of the Girl Scout Leaders' Association met in the First Christian church, Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. The song, "Finlandia," was sung under the direction of Miss Dorothy Patch, and following the girl scout director, Helen MacLean, took charge. Reports were heard from Alice Roberts and Mrs. Klara Cartwright.

All leaders were invited to the Mother's tea to be held Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, in various churches of the city. Announcement was made that the date for the international pageant will be Saturday, May 25.

Mrs. James R. Green, chairman of the pageant committee introduced the following who are on the committee: Mrs. F. S. Sowersby, Margaret Griffiths, Catherine Cunningham, Betty Mackey and Mrs. John McIlwraith. A period of discussion was held by the committee and leaders, and plans for the girl scout pageant are rapidly progressing.

Apparent Victory Of Guffey May Be Signal For State Change

LAWRENCE BACKED JONES' CAMPAIGN

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—City Treasurer Luther Harr, state chairman of the Guffey campaign committee, today was mentioned in political circles as possible successor to State Democratic Committee Chairman David A. Lawrence.

In view of Guffey's apparent victory, Lawrence was seen on his way out because of his espousal of the primary battle of Walter A. Jones for the senatorial nomination. Harr also was boomed as the incumbent senator's choice for governor in 1942.

The Philadelphia city treasurer hailed Guffey's heavy vote as "an indication that the Democrats of Pennsylvania must be a liberal vigorous party."

"While this vote might be taken as a tribute to Senator Guffey," asserted Marr, "all of us must realize that it imposes a solemn responsibility upon Democratic leaders to assure return of a clean, liberal, vigorous administration to Pennsylvania."

Asserts Swing Dancing Done

Hollywood Dance Instructor Says Dances Will Change With Music

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa.—Jack Soles, dancing teacher of Hollywood movie stars, returned to his McKeesport home recently, a purveyor of sad news for the jitterbugs.

The tall follower of Terpsichore went on record as declaring that "swing dancing has had its day."

The 28-year-old broad-beamed blond reported that "swing dancing is no longer the vogue among the movie stars and the cafe society of California.

"Most of the famous players are turning to rhumbas, waltzes and even to polkas," Soles said.

"Music has changed and will continue to change, and that is the only thing new in dancing. Young people still continue their jitterbug ways, but the older people have returned to the more quiet, sophistticate style."

'Samba' The Latest Craze

Soles, who with his attractive partner, Jeanne Hunter, has appeared in the most famous night spots on the West coast, said the latest dance craze in Hollywood was called "Samba," which is a rhumba.

The handsome dancing tutor revealed that he has taught some of the greatest stars the intricate rhumba, "South American Way."

He said the best dancing pupils he had were George Burns and Gracie Allen, the comedians.

Soles claimed that matinee idol, Clark Gable, is no great shakes as a "hoofer."

"It isn't that Gable can't do it," Soles elaborated, "but he just likes to clown around too much. I know the fellow that taught him his dance in the picture 'Idiot's Delight.'

Detroit Judge Is Trying To Smash Numbers Racket

One-Man Grand Jury Hands Down 153 Indictments; Former Mayor On List

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 24.—After a lull of nearly two months Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson's one-man grand jury struck with renewed vigor at Wayne county's $12,000,000 annual numbers racket, naming 135 persons, including former Mayor Richard W. Reading, John Roxborough and Julian Black, Negro co-managers of World's Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, and others in indictments charging conspiracy to protect and operate policy houses.

Named in the indictments handed down secretly last night were 89 present and former policemen. Twenty-eight other persons were named as co-conspirators and 16 "John Does" were named.

Warrants were immediately issued for the arrest of those indicted and officers dispatched to apprehend them.

This latest upheaval in Detroit's renewed war against racketeering, graft and police corruption came as the one-man grand jury probe went into its eighth month.

As special prosecutor Chester P. O'Hara handed the warrants to officers he promised there would be no cessation of the probe, saying:

"This is not the end. There are going to be other grand jury warrants."

The defendants, when brought in will be arraigned before Judge Ferguson sitting as magistrate.

Following Japan's statement of concern over the possible fate of the Dutch East Indies (in event of Netherlands involvement in the European war), Secretary of State Cordell Hull has issued a formal statement asserting an intervention there would prejudice the "cause of stability, peace and security in the entire Pacific area." The United States as well as many other countries depends largely on the Indies for rubber, tin and other commodities. Above is a map showing the position of the Indies in relation to Japan. Pictures show a rubber worker on an Indies plantation and part of the Japanese fleet, which could seize the East Indies in a quick dash there.

Expect Throng At Big Banquet

Advance Ticket Sale For National Legion Commander's Banquet Pushed

COMMITTEES ARE WELL ORGANIZED

Reports on the advance sale of tickets for the American Legion National Commander's banquet, which will take place in The Cathedral, Thursday evening, May 9, indicate that this year's banquet will be one of the largest held in recent years.

Reports made to ticket chairman Clarence A. Jarrett, as announced at last evening's meeting of the Perry S. Gaston Post, show that already over 350 tickets have been disposed of here, and those expecting to attend are advised to make reservations as soon as possible, as there will be a large number coming from Beaver and Butler counties, in the 26th Legion district, in addition to many from other surrounding counties and the state of Ohio.

The executive committee reports that more enthusiasm has been shown for this year's banquet than in some time. This committee, composed of representatives from the three counties, includes the following:

General Chairman, C. C. Sweesy; vice chairman, R. L. Boyd; secretary, Elmer Greenham, Ellwood City; treasurer, Fred C. Duff; Lawrence county, A. L. Conn, Eddie Cain, and R. H. Blewitt; Beaver county, Harry Wissner and O. G. Bender; Butler county, J. H. Collins, and W. G. Richards.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

By EDWIN C. HILL
(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The European public got its first word of the German invasion of Denmark and the start of the greatest and perhaps most critical naval battle of history in news cablegrams from New York. The guns were blazing for hours before the papers of London were on the streets with the news — via New York.

It is a matter of simple fact, and not boasting, that American journalism has developed and has long practiced superb techniques of getting and disseminating news far in advance of those of any other nation. Not only a free press but a do-or-die news-getting press is preeminently an American institution. Europe's stand-out reporters, from the days of M. De Blowitz, who covered the Franco-Prussian War and the peace for the London Times, wouldn't have to take any backwash from ours. But over there they don't just have such "shoot the works" newspapers and press associations as we have.

A European newspaper will be loaded with hoary conformities and taboos; it will be venal, or it will lack the resources to do what our sheets do. There may be many a potential Frank O'Malley or Martin Green or Richard Harding Davis, in their press coop, but they all wear the Oregon boot of precedent and conformity and that's like having a dog do tricks with a can tied to its tail.

The Columbia School of Journalism, or somebody, ought to set up a statute to the leg-man. He is a uniquely American institution, an unsung hero of shoe-leather, courage and staying power. In our country it has become established usage, in getting news, to ask the man who has the information—as simple as that. It is frequently unpleasant business, getting people out of bed at unheard-of hours, crashing into a dinner company, flagging some mogul on the golrf course, and otherwise invading privacy. It all adds up to the best-informed reading public in the world. And that is a Number-One requirement for advancing political and social education, and popular defenses against stifling bureaucracy.

A friend of this writer, a former newspaperman, told me about landing in the London office of a press association, full of pep and rarin' to go. At 2 o'clock in the morning of his first work shift, there was an urgent message from New York asking for clarification of an important news story. Only Lord Whoozis knew the facts. My friend reached for the telephone. His superior asked what he intended to do. He said that, naturally, he was going to call up Lord Whoozis. There was shocked amazement all over the shop. My friend's boss explained that to try to telephone to a member of the peerage at that hour would be nothing short of scandalous and, of course, would only enrage his lordship. Perhaps something could be done the next day.

Our young reporter was on the job at noon, processed through innumerable underlings, through several hours, to his lordship's third assistant secretary. He was informed that if he would call the following Thursday there might be some word as to whether he might see his lordship. Thursday came and the answer was a cold turn-down. That angered him. He determined that he would see Lord Whoozis.

Days passed as his efforts continued. New York had been sending blistering telegrams about checking that story, but the story died and our friend was called off. He insisted, however, that this was a matter of principle and he would see his lordship or bust. After two weeks, he was shown into a vast, dim chamber at the far end of which sat a wizened little octogenarian. The flunkey motioned him to remain standing by the door.

Our friend asked his question loud enough for Lord Whoozis to hear. He gave no sign of understanding. Then the flunkey advanced across the room and repeated the question close to his lordship's ear. He mumbled something in reply. It was clear that a peer of the realm could have intercourse with an American reporter only through an intermediary. Our friend advanced to his lordship's chair and said:

"In my country, people talk to each other. That's the only way I know how to talk. You do not wish to talk to me. My disinclination to talk to you is even stronger. Good day."

It's like that in Europe, but we have broken it down over here and that's why they take our dust in the news parade.

COME ON Let's Trade!

YOU'VE watched the new Nashs sail by, with an envying eye. You've met Nash owners, and been told it's even more fun than it looks.

You need a new car. Come on—let's trade.

Sure, you'll get a "good deal"—a good deal more than you'll bargain for!

When we swap, we'll throw in things other cars don't have. Sedans that can be made into big Convertible Beds—to save you lodging costs on summer trips.

You'll get—not an ordinary engine—but thrilling Nash Manifold-Sealed power! Record fast pickup . . . weather-proof performance . . . economy best in its class in the Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run—23.76 miles a gallon.

You'll get the soft and steady traveling gait, the "motorized-feather" feeling which Nash's Arrow-Flight Ride has introduced to motoring.

Above all—you'll get a better-built automobile, built the Nash way. Listen to how much quieter a Nash runs—a sign of precision engineering.

Notice how much more a Nash weighs! That 300 to 400 pounds of designed-in extra heft includes a 7-bearing crankshaft (instead of the usual 3 or 4) . . . a double-frame chassis . . . bigger hydraulic brakes . . . to give you an extra 100,000 mile run for your money.

Now—look at the price below for a big 1940 Nash deluxe sedan! It's almost unbelievable!

Your present car will probably cover the down payment. So come on—let's trade, and start saving money at once.

James J. Coyne Again Defeated

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Former State Senator James J. Coyne failed today for a third time to "come back" in Pennsylvania politics vie the elective office route. Incomplete returns gave O. B. Hannon, Coyne's opponent, a strong margin for the 43rd district state senatorial Republican nomination.

Republican County Chairman Frank J. Harris and two of the chairman's erstwhile factional foes, James F. Malone and James H. Duff, teamed up to stop Coyne.

Since his 1936 defeat after three terms in the state senate, Coyne had been defeated both for county commissioner and city council.

In the Democratic senatorial race, Joseph F. Barr, secretary of the Young Democrats of Allegheny County, was holding a three-to-one lead over Arthur T. McConnell, alderman.

Orders Backlog Much Increased

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24. — The United Engineering and Foundry company's current backlog is two-and-one-half times as big as it was a year ago, George T. Ladd, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting Tuesday.

The backlog is sufficient, he said, to keep the company's machine shops going full blast for the remainder of the year.

"Of the business now on the books," the president reported, "a majority is foreign, and since much of the negotiation was going on prior to the present European war, we believe these contracts would have been awarded us regardless of such war conditions and primarily because of our local and direct representation."

Warren Refinery Will Be Closed

WARREN, Pa., April 24.—The Conewango Refining company, one of the oldest and largest industries in Warren, will shut down permanently May 1, according to announcement made by Harry R. Lewis, president of the firm.

The company, which employs 125 men, will have a skeleton force for a time, until oil now in process is finished by July 1.

Closing of the plant, specializing in the manufacture of heavy lubricating oils, was necessitated by the slump in Pennsylvania lubricating oil prices which has made profitable operation of the refinery impossible, Mr. Lewis said.

SEVEN MILL LEVY IN MERCER COUNTY

Final approval of a seven-mill county tax levy for 1940, and a budget providing for expenditures totaling $863,971.19 for county government and maintenance of the institutional district, was made recently by the commissioners at Mercer.

Abolishing the offices of county engineer and collector of personal property taxes, the commissioners effected a substantial economy in the budget.

Franco Enters Picture Abroad

Is Latest "Little Big Man" To Assume Key Role In Europe

SMALLEST MEN MAKE MOST POISE

By HOWARD BERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—With a civil war in Spain at an end, and the recognition of the Nationalist Government by the European Powers, the voice of another "little big man" has today sprung up in Europe's theater of political varieties.

He is five foot three-and-one-half inch General Francisco Franco, and even Mussolini with his five foot seven and a half inches should not feel dwarfed beside him.

The world today is being run by men of small or medium stature. If the man-in-the-street looks back over the last two decades he will find that all the biggest noises have been made by the smallest men.

Hitler, compared with the late Dr. Engelbert Dollfuss, Chancellor of the former Austria, is not really a small man. But at five foot nine inches the Fuehrer would certainly not stand out in a crowd.

Nazi Chieftains Lack Height

And considering the importance attached to the physical culture, Ayran variety, in present-day Germany, it is somewhat surprising to find that the three men are the head of affairs, Hitler, Goering and Goebbels, should fall short of the Teutonic ideal—at any rate, in so far as height is concerned.

Edouard Daladier, the present Premier of France, is almost a foot shorter than M. Flandin, one of his predecessors. But where it is unlikely that Flandin, with his six foot four inches, will go down in history as one of the strong men of France, there is just a possibility that Daladier will.

While Neville Chamberlain, Britain's Prime Minister is above average height, he is not a tall man. The leading political firebrands in Britain today are, and have usually been, small men.

Take Lloyd George and Winston Churchill for example. Both of these statesmen are well below average height.

There is evidently something the little men have which the tall men lack.

Acceptable Explanation

The most acceptable explanation is that short men, being conscious, of their lack of inches, must struggle to overcome their sense of inferiority.

To have to go through life with any sort of physical handicap hardens a man's outlook and—if he overcomes it—strengthens his character.

Had Napoleon been six feet instead of around five feet he might never have left his native Corsica.

In the pugilistic world it is said a good big 'un will always beat a good little 'un, but in the battle of life it seems to be the reverse.

Township Road Plans Approved

Almost Two Million Dollars Worth Of Projects Approved

HARRISBURG, April 24.—Second class townships apparently are preparing for a busy road improvement program during the present season judging from the applications already approved by the township bureau of the Department of Highways. Thus far the bureau has given its approval to 162 projects involving the expenditure of $1,949,481.

The projects already approved call for the improvement of 223.6 miles of second class township roads. Road construction takes up a bulk of the township mileage with 192 miles. The balance is made up of reconstruction, widening, resurfacing and some guard rail construction.

Projects approved thus far provide for the building of four bridges on township roads.

Included in the second class township road program are 49 locally sponsored WPA projects involving the improvement of 80.99 miles of rural roads.

Advises Soldiers To Grow Beards

English Doctor Asserts It Will Prevent Men From Catching Cold

(International News Service)

LONDON.—Grow a beard, and keep free from colds.

Such is the advice of Dr. E. A. Chartres, an English medico, who has written to the British Medical Journal expressing the view that soldiers should grow beards to keep the common cold at bay.

Chartres has had a long career in many parts of the world, serving in India, Nigeria and Gambia, as well as taking part in four or five wars.

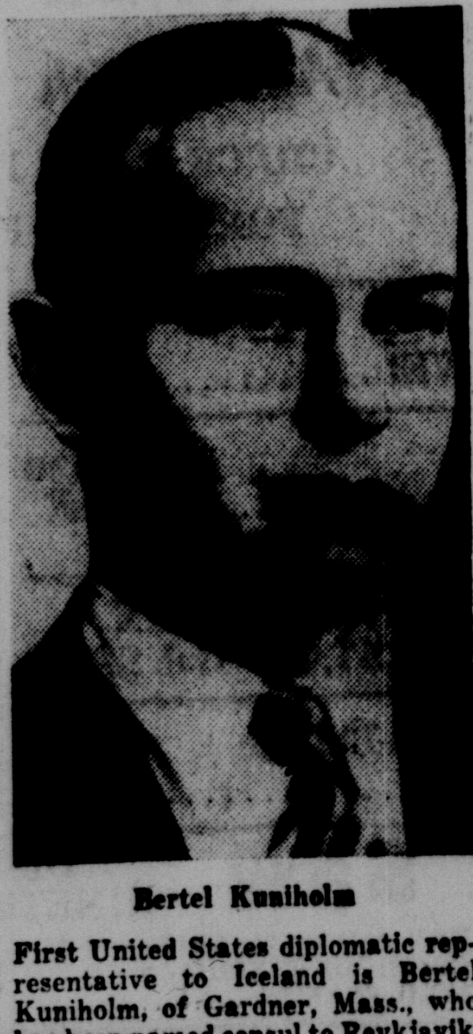
And a beard, in his opinion, is "a simple precaution which would lower the sick list and cost nothing on active service in the winter months."

Suffered In Boer War

Chartres went to South Africa to fight in the Boer War. Previously he had suffered a good deal from bronchial and throat trouble. He decided to grow a beard.

"During my subsequent service of more than twelve months," Chartres states, "I never had the slightest cold, nor chapped, raw-beef lips so common to every cold wind in June and July, and this same freedom I observed in other men who adopted this natural protection.

Envoy to Iceland



Bertel Kuniholm

First United States diplomatic representative to Iceland is Bertel Kuniholm, of Gardner, Mass., who has been named consul to Reykjavik, capital of the island nation. Iceland declared its independence of Denmark following Nazi invasion of that country.

FRENCH ARMY USES DOGS IN OUTPOSTS

(International News Service)

PARIS—Dogs, which give warning of the presence of an enemy, by a low growl, are used extensively for outpost duty in the French Army.

There are numbers of troops whose special job is to train and accompany the dogs.

When a patrol goes out towards enemy territory, two of these dogs go with it. One is left in charge of a soldier half way between the advance patrol and the base while the other goes forward.

When necessary the latter animal is sent back with a message fixed to a metal tube attached to its collar, while the second dog is sent forward to join the reconnoitering party.

BRITISH ARE USING HOME-MADE CAMERAS

(International News Service)

LONDON—The Royal Air Force today is using simple home-made cameras on all the present reconnaissance and observation planes.

The cameras which have been installed in the machines are designed at the R. A. F. School of Photography, and all components parts are of British manufacture.

The equipment is simple and can be relied on to function perfectly under the present wartime conditions. The men who use the cameras are not aces but ordinary air force men, who volunteered for observation posts when they joined the service.

Fast Living Is Cause Of Colds

Common Cold Costs Nation Upwards Of Three Million Dollars Yearly

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND. — The tempestuous pace led by the modern generation is more to blame for common colds than any other factor in the opinion of Dr. Harry C. Rosenberger Cleveland otorhinolaryngologist.

Dr. Rosenberger revealed that three-quarters of the population of the United States have at least two colds a year which cost upwards of $3,000,000 in lost time, doctor bills and medicine.

"There is scarcely a disease," he said, "that doctors know they know less about or laymen think they know more about than the common cold. The ordinary citizen will tell the world just how he caught cold and what he did to cure it—and in most cases he probably will be wrong."

Cause Of Colds

He added that colds are caused by a virus organism so small it is not visible under the most powerful microscope and passes through a porcelain filter that captures all other bacteria.

"Perhaps from a scientific analysis of our modern civilization may come the clue that will free us from the whims and vagaries of the common cold and its attendent sinus difficulties," Dr. Rosenberger said

Farmer Is Injured; Jolted From Wagon

Harold M. Emery, 74-year-old farmer who resides this side of the Ohio line at New Middletown, has injuries to his back and right arm, having been jolted from a wagon struck by an auto at 5:15 p. m. Tuesday on a county road in Enon Valley vicinity, state motor police stated today.

They reported Ray Casto, New Castle R. D. 7, was operating an auto east on the road and the horse drawing the wagon was coming out of a side road. The operator's view was obstructed by trees and brush. Emery tried to stop the horse before it got onto the Pinchot road, but was unable to do so.

When the auto struck the wagon Emery was thrown out.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Homecoming Day Program Given

All Former Members And Friends Of Methodist Church Get Invitations

Program for the special anniversary service and Homecoming Day scheduled for the Mahoning Methodist church, on Sunday, May 5, was announced today by Rev. D. J. Blasdell, pastor.

According to Rev. Blasdell, all former members and friends of the congregation are being invited to attend the special services.

Rev. Charles H. Hagadorn, of Erie, and a former pastor of the ward church, will be the guest speaker at the morning service. A general fellowship meeting is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock that afternoon, with several guest speakers in charge.

Rev. Blasdell will preside at both meetings, and special music is being planned.

RETURN HOME

The flood waters having gone down in the vicinity of New Cumberland, W. Va., Mrs. Richard Soloman and children, returned to their home there, Tuesday afternoon. They concluded a visit at the home of Mrs. Lena Soloman, North Liberty street, which started last Saturday when flood waters threatened their home.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Anthony Funari of 211 Ashland avenue, returned to his home Tuesday afternoon from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was undergoing treatment for a head injury sustained while at work on the P. & L. E. railroad, Monday.

Second Precinct First To Report

Continues To Hold Lead For Being First To Tabulate Election Results

Still holding its first place position for being the first county poll to report their election results to The News, the second precinct of the Seventh ward, called The News at 8:14 o'clock Tuesday night.

The first call was to report the result of the Republican assembly race and came just 14 minutes after the polls were officially closed.

Coming close on its heels, the first precinct of the Seventh ward called in a short time later with their first results. Officials at the second precinct evidently take pride in being prompt with their returns for they have led the race to report first for a number of years.

BID-A-BIT CLUB AT RUEHLE HOME

Members of the Bid-A-Bit club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Ruehle, North Cedar street, Monday evening.

High score prizes were presented to Mrs. Mae Culbertson and Miss June Anderson. Mrs. Richard Soloman, New Cumberland, W. Va., was a special guest.

Mrs. Culbertson aided Mrs. Ruehle in serving a delicious luncheon. Next meeting will be held on May 8, at the home of Mrs. Edward Bevan, West Clayton street.

DINNER POSTPONED

The St. Margaret baseball team spaghetti supper that was scheduled for April 25, has been postponed until May 2. The supper is to benefit the new ball team.

Taylor Passes Examinations For Pilot's License

Youngest Holder Of Commercial Airplane Pilot's License In District

Continuing his chosen career of aviation, Paul Taylor, 18, of 330 East North street, successfully passed examinations Tuesday, that makes him the youngest holder of a commercial airplane pilot's license in this district.

Taylor, a Junior B student at New Castle Senior High school, flew to Butler for the examination, and came away with high scores in both his written and flying tests. Civil Aeronautics Inspectors, Nelson Brown and Eugene McCurdy gave the qualifying examinations.

Limited Commercial Pilot, is Taylor's new official rating. It is necessary to obtain 60-hours of solo flying before being eligible for an "L. C." license.

At the age of 16, Taylor again gained recognition by being the youngest pilot to solo and secure a Private license. Since that time the young man has been going right ahead, making long strides in aviation at the New Castle Airport.

Taylor has been "right-hand man" and chief aide to Findley C. Wilson for the past five years. It was Taylor's willingness to learn and Wilson's encouragement that made the commercial license possible at this time.

Paul, despite his youth, has a thorough knowledge of airplanes and airplane motors, and can very easily completely rebuild engines.

Limited Commercial license is rather difficult to secure and but a few of the local pilots hold this rating.

Germans Announce Steikjer Capture

High Command Announces Town Sixty Miles From Trondheim Is Taken

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 24—Capture of the strategic town of Steikjer about 60 miles north of Trondheim, key German-occupied Norwegian port, was announced by the German high command today.

By taking Steikjer, it was claimed, the German forces blocked the railway and highways leading from Namsos, where British troops landed, to Trondheim.

The German war communique announcing capture of Steikjer stated:

"Enemy naval and land forces in the Narvik region were reinforced further without attempting an attack.

"Northeast of Trondheim the German forces after a brief battle captured the important Steikjer Straits at the furthermost northeastern corner of Trondheim fjord, taking 80 prisoners.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS
Read These Important Facts!

Quivering nerves can make you old, haggard, cranky—can make your life a nightmare of jealousy, self pity and "the blues."

Often such nervousness is due to female functional disorders. So take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help calm unstrung nerves and lessen functional "irregularities." For over 60 years relief-giving Pinkham's Compound has helped tens of thousands of grandmothers, mothers and daughters "in time of need."

Pinkham's Compound positively contains no opiates or habit forming ingredients—it is made from nature's own wholesome roots and herbs each with its own special work to perform. One of the most effective "woman's" tonics made! In liquid or handy to carry tablet form (similar formula). Try it!

Cuba To Name New President

Retired Army Leader Batista Widely Supported In Candidacy

CANDIDATE OF COALITION GROUP

By RICHARD ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Cuba.—Fulgencio Batista y Zaldivar, private citizen, who voluntarily retired as chief of the armed forces, from which eminence he guided the destinies of revolutionary Cuba for more than six years, has launched a vigorous campaign of a five-party coalition.

His opponent, or opponenes, have not yet been nominated but it is certain that one of them will be Dr. Ramon Grau y San Martin, university professor, surgeon, formerly a provisional president and the leader of the powerful Authentic Revolutionary Party.

There is no doubt that the real battle will be between the forces of Batista and Grau but it is extremely probable that the deciding factor lies in the hands of that veteran politician, General Mario Garcia Menocal, who was twice president of the Republic.

In the recent elections to namo delegates to the Constituent assembly Arch-Conservative Menocal was aligned with Extremely Liberal Grau in the loose coalition against the government. The opposition group won 41 seats in the assembly while the pro-Batista groups won only 35.

Small Chance Of Coalition

But these results are not exceptec in imparitial circles as being prophetic. Any coalition between Menocal and Grau, except as a convenience of the moment, is an absurdity. And the Menocalistas won 15 assembly seats, without which the opposition woul have fallen far short of its present majority.

Election Date Impends

Date for the elections has been fixed by law on February 28, 1940 but there is considerable opposition to the date among Grau's supporters. They contend the law should be amended so that elections would fall after the Assembly had completed its work of drafting a new constitution.

President Frederico Laredo Bru struck a blow to their hopes, however, when he declared flatly that he was going to leave the palace when his term expired May 20, regardless of whether a successor has been named.

It is rumored that President Laredo, who as vice president succeeded the ousted Dr. Gomez, will seek a seat in the senate from his home district of Cienfuegos.

Rumania Occupies Precarious Role

Three Countries Demand Return Of Areas Gained During World War

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST.—"Our political situation, both exterior and interior, was never worse."

This was the statement made by one of Rumania's leading journalists whom this correspondent met following a recent exclusive interview with foreign minister Gafencu.

"Bulgaria demands Southern Dobrudga, Hungary wants Transylvania, and the Russians have never recognized our right to Bessarabia.

"We are menaced on three sides. If we give up Southern Dobrudja, we shall have to yield to the Russians and the Hungarians also. Our main outlet to the sea is Constantza on the Black Sea, and this port would be directly menaced if Southern Dobrudja were occupied by an unfriendly power.

Status Of Minorities

"We cannot ignor minority rights, and the Macedonians in western Dobrudja are unalterably opposed to Bulgarian rule. On the other hand, we admit frankly that Bessarabia is mainly populated by people of Russian origin, but they will not unwillingly submit to annexation by the Soviet regime.

"Our difficulties with Hungary over Transylvania have recently been settled. There are indications, however, that Budapest will reopen the question if we make concessions in regard to Besarabia or Dobrudja.

6-Year-Old Boy Swims Hudson In 40 Minutes

(International News Service)

NEW YORK. — Six-year-old Stephen (Sonny) Kole Jr., of Chicago recently swam the mile-wide Hudson river in 39 minutes, 27 and 4-10 seconds.

His father, Sephen Kole, Sr. an athletic coach, says that his ambition is to get Sonny into the movies. Sonny, he says, can throw a baseball ninety feet, punt and pass a football twenty yards, chin the bar fifteen times, do sixty pushups, do ten different dives from a twenty-foot board, row a boat, wrestle, box, hurdle and sprint.

Sonny swam the Hudson accompanied by a fleet of small boats and Victor Till, a former world's champion relay swimmer.

He kept up a running comment during his trip across. At one point he asked, "How about a beer when we get ashore."

107-YEAR-OLD MAN PROVES TO BE AS FIT AS A FIDDLE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Samuel Elfman who isn't sure whether he is 103 or 107 years old, is the first one up in the morning at home.

He lives with his daughter Mrs. Anna Cohen, 59 one of his nine living children. She said:

"He has a bigger appetite than all of us and I wouldn't be surprised if father outlived all of us."

Elfman, whose family is now in its fourth generation, emigrated from Russia over 50 years ago. He still reads without glasses, eats anything, and has never consulted a doctor. Mrs. Cohen added:

"Father used to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning to walk to the synagogue. Now he awakens at the same hour and goes out to get the milk and paper."

Bullet-Proof Tires Used By British

British Scientists Perfect Tire Following World War Experiences

(International News Service)

LONDON.—British army trucks are now using a bullet-proof tire, according to Brigadier J. S. Crawford, Director of Mechanization at the Ministry of Supply.

The principal of the tire is that the bullet does not bounce off but penetrates the rubber. The interior construction prevents the tire from collapsing when hit.

Brigadier Crawford revealed that British scientists have been experimenting since the end of the World War to produce such a tire.

"I think this country is the only one which has produced a successful bullet-proof tire," he said. "We have had it for some years but have not talked about it."

Tests have shown that it is possible for a tire to stand up for at least 100 miles after being hit by a bullet.

"Army trucks have been fitted with a bullet-proof cover for some years, but they are all being replaced by the new one of improved design and performance," Brigadier Crawford said.

It is now claimed that Britain leads the world with a tire that will do all the army wants it to do.

BRITAIN INVENTS LAMP TO WAR ON DISEASE IN ARMY

(International News Service)

LONDON — A lamp which kills germs with ultra-violet rays is Britain's latest weapon in the war against epidemics among her fighting forces.

Experiments are now being carried out in government laboratories. If they are successful lamps will be supplied to every barrack in Britain and France.

It is expected that the lamps will halt the spread of grippe and German measles, which have been contracted by hundreds of soldiers in the past two months.

The use of light rays in this connection was discovered in the United States, and the inventions of American scientists are being used as a basis for research by British experts.

MAINE WOMAN HAS BEEN WRITER FOR 90 YEARS

(International News Service)

GARDINER, Me.—Eighty years a writer is the unusual record of Mrs. Laura E. Richards, dean of Maine literati and noted children's author, who celebrated her 90th birthday at her home with her husband, Henry, 92.

The birthday celebration brought their children to "Yellow House," overlooking the Kennebec River, where she went to live as a bride.

Mrs. Richards, daughter of Julia Ward Howe and Samuel Bridley Howe, is a native of Boston. She started her writing career at the age of ten.

Since then she has turned out more than 100 works. Her latest books, written last year, were: "The Hottentot," a song book for children, and "What Shall the Children Read."

Best known of her works is "Captain January."

LONG COURTSHIPS ARE ESPOUSED BY ENGLISH LECTURER

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Admitting there might be such a thing as "Love at First Sight," Mrs. Ethel Nash, English writer and lecturer, told a Christ Church "marriage forum," it is exeremely rare and should be avoided.

Mrs. Nash urges a courtship of at least a year, in which time many causes of marital disputes can be ironed out in advance.

She advised listeners to make friends with the opposite sex before thinking of falling in love. It is possible to make these friends through many of the clubs and social organizations.

These groups also tend to raise artificial barriers to friendship, she said.

Fortifications Of Canal Zone Strengthened

Government Busy Bomb-Proofing Locks And Adding To Armament

CAN COPE WITH ANY EMERGENCY

By FRED W. PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ANCON, CANAL ZONE, April 23.—An opportunity to observe from the air the extensive defense construction program now in its initial stage throughout the Canal Zone has been given this correspondent in a survey flight over the Canal and adjacent territory.

The flight, made possible through the courtesy of United States Army authorities, was conducted in a B-18 Bomber piloted by Lieutenant Colonel F. M. Brady. The aerial trip gave opportunity to secure a comprehensive picture of Canal defense strategy, as well as a chance to observe preliminary preparations for the projected third set of locks, current bomb-proofing operations, and the huge building and housing program now under way.

Accompanied by First Lieutenant Charles P. Baldwin, Quarry Heights press chief, we stood in the forward observation turret of the giant bomber and roared from the Pacific to the Atlantic, banked about and returned from the Atlantic to the Pacific all within the brief space of thirty minutes; a feat possible only here since the distance between the two oceans is but 45 miles.

Locks Are Bomb-Proofed

Taking off from Albrook Field airbase we climbed to 1,500 feet and from this altitude made our observations. As soon as we were off the ground we headed for Miraflores and Pedro Miguel locks and from our plane became one of the few civilians to observe the highly secret bomb-proofing operations under way at these locks.

The bomb-proofing work, which is carried on twenty-four hours a day, is carefully guarded by the Army and Canal authorities. Only from a plane can the actual details of the operations be seen, and for obvious reasons these details cannot be reported. It was interesting to this observer to see that many new anti-aircraft installations have been erected on the locks themselves, another step in the ever increasing vigilance of the Canal.

Due west of the Canal between Miraflores and Pedro Miguel could be seen clearing operations in preparation for construction of the awaited third set of locks. Officially, no work in this connection is supposed to be under way but from the air many jungle clearings could be discerned. West of Miraflores Lake, we were told the town of Cocoli will become a thriving construction site as soon as Congress gives the go signal for the new locks construction work.

New Gun Emplacements

Between the Pacific and the Atlantic on both sides of the Canal could be seen numerous and apparently newly constructed hill-top sites which we were told were to be additional anti-aircraft gun emplacements. Again for obvious reasons the locations of these strategic sites cannot be disclosed. Many of the already completed new anti-aircraft installations were barely visible as a result of their careful camouflaging.

In the Gaillard cut, sometimes known as Culebra cut, near the new Canal Zone town of Gamboa, it was possible to see workmen widening the Canal by high water pressure slucing methods. The Canal sides are washed away with terrific water pressure and then the dirt and silt are dredged from the Canal.

Only from the air is it possible to realize the extent of the building program. Six months ago jungles covered a site near Gamboa called Parraiso. Today hundreds upon hundreds of barracks are erected in an immense clearing to house the Fifth Infantry which was moved here in its entirety from New England. Near Balboa, on what was recently a barren hilltop, the new town of Diablo Heights has sprung up as if by magic.

New Barracks Added

Flying to Colon and Cristobal to view Atlantic side defenses, we saw the deserted locations of Frijoles and Darien, construction sites of a quarter of a century ago. We flew low over Gatun Lake, which is an artificial lake of 164 square miles, and over Gatun Dam which is 7,200 feet long and 115 feet deep. At Mount Hope new construction could be seen. In the Atlantic sector Army camps thousands of new barracks were in progress of construction. All along the Atlantic coast looking out to the Caribbean the vital coast artillery installations could be seen.

Returning to Albrook Field, we veered off course for a brief glimpse of Fort Kobbe where many more troops are being stationed. The fortified islands in Panama Bay stood out in sharps relief against the Pacific Ocean and we were able to see a few of the giant 14 and 16 inch coast artillery guns. Although the writer knew the location of many of the Pacific sector anti-aircraft installations, these guns were not visible due to the fact they are so completely camouflaged by the heavy jungle growth.

Upon alighting at Albrook, Major General Daniel Van Voorhis, commanding general of the Panama Canal department, told the writer: "You can say we feel assured that the Panama Canal will be given its proper place in the providing of the necessary means for our national defense."

WPA TELLS HOW TIPPING PRACTICE GOT ITS START

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Did you ever wonder where the custom of tipping originated and how it got its name?

The WPA Historical Records Survey claims to have the answer to both questions.

It originated at the Ames Tavern in Dedham. And this is how it got its name, according to the WPA.

The tavern was on the middle road between Hartford, Conn., and Boston. Often as many as 12 coaches drew up at its door with customers for breakfast.

The inn was equipped with a small box nailed to the wall with a slot at the top through which to drop money.

On the box were printed the words "To Insure Promptness," or, abbreviated "T. I. P." Guests of course were supposed to drop something in and the money was divided among the servants.

Frequently some employee would remind a guest of the custom by pointing to the box and mentioning the initials of the inscription. As a result, the box gradually became known as the "Tip Box" and the money paid as a "tip."

'SHAVING SPEED' RECORD

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia.—A Yugoslavia barber established a new "shaving speed" record. According to reports from Petrovgrad a barber and a hair-dresser broke the present "shaving speed" record, which is said to be held by an American at 27 seconds. Bela Gali, the barber, established a new world record at 23 seconds, while it took George Agoston, the hair dresser, 24 seconds to complete the shave.

CHINESE SEER SEES WORLD AT A TURNING POINT

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI—The world will reach the "cross-roads of destiny" by June of this year, according to Mr. K. W. Chang, the famous Chinese seer who has won a large following by a series of remarkable predictions which he has made in the past few years.

These predictions included the kidnapping of General Chiang Kai-shek, the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese conflict, and the beginning of the present European War.

In 1940, Mr. Chang predicts the people of the world will reach a turning point in history. One way lies salvation, the other a holocaust of "blood, earthquakes and pestilence."

Class A Managers To Meet Tonight

Rocco P. Viggiano, president of the City Softball Association, has called an important meeting of the Class A managers and representatives for the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock.

The meeting is for managers only, no players will be allowed in the meeting room. Mr. Viggiano wants the following to attend the session: Kiski Marino and Pete Capitola, league representatives; Ray Wallace, league adviser; A. R. Conn, league secretary; Bill Mutdock, of the Foley team; Bruno Masterson, Dundo Ambrosia, of the Rad team; Bird Riley, of the Gus Big Ten, and the manager of the Willow Grove team.

A general discussion of the coming season will take place. An opening date will be set. More than likely a ball will be adopted. There is a franchise still open for an eighth team.

Pastor-Burman Bout Arranged

Humbert Fugazy Returns To Promotional Wars With Bout For Brooklyn

FINLAND CALLS 1940 OLYMPICS OFF

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 24.—Along the sports front today we learn:

The Olympic games definitely have been cancelled by Finland, but they will be held in 1944, either at London or Helsinki, if there still are enough athletes alive to make it worthwhile . . . In the meantime, miniature Olympics will be held at Los Angeles during the summer and plans are being made for the Pan-American games . . . The latter probably will become a permant fixture for every two or three years between Olympics.

Humbert Fugazy will apply for and probably obtain from the New York State Athletic Commission on Friday a license to promote fights in Brooklyn . . . His first show will be a heavyweight tangle between Bob Pastor and Red Burman . . . They are not tied up in the Mike Jacobs fold, largely because Jacobs doesn't want them . . . What we would like to knew is how many customers will turn out to see Pastor against Burman at Ebbets Field and what Fugazy is going to do for talent after that show . . . Uncle Mike has all the rest of the worthwhile talent sewed up.

To Examine Baer

Also on Friday Max Baer will undergo an examination by New Jersey doctors for his bout with Tony Galento at Jersey City on May 28 . . . It seems a little silly that fighters, who are supposed to be healthy athletes, must submit to such probings . . . especially when you remember that despite an examination here John Henry Lewis was blind in one eye when he fought Joe Louis.

Bimelech is the standout favorite for the Kentucky Derby, but a thing called Dit is going to get some of the dark horse play . . . Messrs. James A. Farley and James M. Cox, the well-known politicians, are back in the headlines today as prospective buyers of the New York Yankees . . . That's a cheap way to get publicity anyhow, even if the deal doesn't go through . . . Yankee officials insist they never heard of Farley and Cox.

No one can be quite so certain of frustration as the tennis players who have entered the professional championship at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., hopeful of victory . . . Don Budge is among the contestants . . . if he drops a set it will be a form upheaval.

Jock Sutherland, who used to be the coach in the Pittsburgh football factory, is seeking some of his erstwhile stars to help him out in his new job as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National professional league . . . and by the way, what became of that freshman football strike for more pay threatened at Pittsburgh a few weeks ago?

RED BIRDS WIN

The Red Birds softball team of the Class B softball league opened the season yesterday by taking the measure of the Union High softball team, 5 to 4. Dixie Dewberry was the winning hurler. The losing pitcher was Pilch. Dave Parsons hammered out a pair of home runs.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Some strange sights are seen when fighters slug each other. For instance when Milt Taylor and George Saunders were engaged in the knock-down-drag-out affair in the Arena one man was seen to chew half a dozen stogies into shreds. Another man went through the motions of fighting. Another kept getting up and down from a chair. One ran from a back row and patted Taylor on the back.

When another fighter fell from the ring, eager hands reached up to help him. However, that is not permissible under rules. However, it being an amateur affair, the referee did not object. One man who had all eyes for Frankie Karik, was Young Buffalo. "Had a stance like that taught by Jimmie Dime" he said going out of the Arena.

No difference how vicious the punching none of the feminists present keeled o'er. . . Billy Reale must learn to shoot his punches straight. When he threw an overhand looping blow Shed Bell could beat him with a straight left anytime. No fighter should lead with his right. Johnny Swanton, odd style met Billy Murray and the Flash got the award. He would have had a more difficult time with Frankie Moran. Johnny Dean, the pro' wants to fight Freddy Lenn 10 rounds, not six" I have a chance to stop him over the longer route" he said.

Frank Crisci came back from Pittsburgh to hold down his seat in the ringside section. Frank is associating with the Pirates. He thinks Frankie Frisch is the berries.

A tip to Tommy Leach would be a rematch between George Saunders and Milt Taylor. Once upon a time there were two Youngstown lads who attended every fight in the Jolly bowl. They were known as "Paddy and Vindy." The half of the combination was here Monday night. He was Paddy and is interested in Saunders. Vince Joyce the boy who attires his fighters in the green trunks is a brother of Billy Joyce who fought out of this city years ago.

The National Boxing Association has disclosed it was ready to name Petey Scalzo as the new featherweight champion of the world. The association made known its position in a memorandum to Max Waxman, manager of Harry Heffra; Emile Bruneau, manager of Jimmy Perrin; Jete Reilly, Scalzo's manager; Simon Chavez, Venezuelan featherweight, and the boxing commissions in Louisiana, Maryland and Venezuela. NBA President Harvey L. Miller said that while a majority of votes to declare Scalzo the new titleholder have been received, the association was giving Jeffra, Perrin and Chavez this final chance to agree to meet Scalzo. If the three contenders fail to answer the memorandum, then Scalzo will be declared champ. If he is, he must agree to defend the title immediately and to defend it again in 90 days. Jeffra, Perrin and Chavez will be named as the leading contenders.

Notice to managers of baseball and softball teams: Because of the looming volume of sports news it will not be possible for The News to announce practices to be held. Therefore, all managers should form a system whereby they can provide such information to players without sending it to The News. All baseball and softball accounts must be complete, written on one side of the paper and be legible. Otherwise reports will not be published—Sports Editor.

From the way the rookies performed in the major leagues yesterday, it is apparent today that these lads are going to have a large say this year as to where the pennants are going to fly, says Pat Robinson. . . . The Olympic games have definitely been cancelled by Finland, but they will be held in 1944, either at London or Helsinki. That is if there are enough athletes still alive to make it worth while.

Sports World Ramblings

Local sputterings—Two more local diamond products are on their way up. Henry Koszela, the ex-Lawrence Indies Joe DiMaggio, and Paul Coulter, talented catcher who performed with several sandlot outfits here, were impressive enough during training sessions to win regular berths with the Mayodan club of the Bi-State League. Barring injuries, they won't return home until after the season. . . .

Coulter reportedly snatched the manager's backstop job. Koszela cinched his job last Saturday by plastering a game winning double in the ninth chukker. Fred Shaffer, incidentally, got his pitching start with the same club. Mayodan also uncovered Cleveland's sensational third sacker, Kenneth Keltner, only to mention a few present gems of the national pastime. . . .

Diamond feed box—The Athletics have never beaten Murphy of the Yanks. The champs' pegger has trimmed the Mackmen seven times. . . . The A's have always been a headache to "Red" Ruffing, however. Philadelphia has setback Ruffing 24 times in 52 clashes. . . . Roy Pfleger, who smashed quite a few homers for Minneapolis, is out for the season. Sent to Nashville, Pfleger refused to report and grabbed a post with Sacramento. He broke his leg in two places. . . .

Only three National Leaguers started the season as members of the 2,000 hitter class. This group includes Waner brothers and Melvin Ott. "Chuck" Klein needs only 14 bingles to join. . . . Milt Haefner, who is getting a tryout with Minneapolis, won 24 and lost only nine for Deland, Florida, last year. In his opening tiff, Haefner pitched a four hitter. . . . Wilburn Butland, 6 foot 5 inch right hander up with the Red Sox, pitched two years of high school ball and never lost a game. He wore a Terre Haute High suit. . .

Things new to us in sports—King Clancy, the noted hockey star, has only four teeth left. He lost all the others during his playing career. . . . Jimmy McLarnin and his manager, "Pop" Foster, earned about $700,000 in the boxing game. . . . Of the 15,000,000 bowlers in this country, about 4,500,000 are women. . . . Haverford is the only American College with a varsity cricket team. . . . Softball players and fans in this country number about 15,000,000.

Less than one per cent of over 4,000 players have succeeded in registering par on the tricky Sun Valley, Idaho, golf course. The course is at mountain top elevation, 6,000 feet above sea level and is dotted with creeks. The course has only nine greens but 18 teas. . . . A California fight manager sold the contract on a fighter at a rate of 20 cents a pound. A poultry dealer made the purchase. The cost—$29.35. . . .

Nate Mann Wins In Third Round

Nate Mann scored a technical kayo in three rounds over Buck Everett in a heavyweight boxing match in Washington last night. Other results: Wesley Ramey lost an eight-round decision to Dave Castilloux in a lightweight fight in New York. Solly Kreiger, light-heavyweight, stopped Herbie Katz in four rounds.

Pirates Trim Chicago Cubs

Paul Waner Pinch Hit Wins For Bucs Over Hapless Cubs 3 To 2

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 24.—It is apparent today that the once-a-week shaving brigade is going to have a large say in where the pennant flags will fly this season.

These callow rookies already have made their presence felt and some of them seem destined to develop into stars of the first magnitude.

Irrepressible Dodger fans, who already foresee a pennant on the strength of their club's three straight victories, sans defeat, are loudly proclaiming the merits of Catcher Herman Franks, outfielder Charley Gilbert, son of the old major league infielder, and Pee-Wee Reese, who will have to wait some time before he can cast his first vote.

Rookies Look Good

These three youngsters staged a field day yesterday to assure old Tex Carleton a victory in his comeback campaign. Reese, making his major league debut in place of Leo Durocher, who was sidelined with a sore arm, drove in one run; Frank drove in three with a homer, a double and two singles; and Gilbert topped off the proceedings with two homers, good for four runs. The net result was an 8-3 decision over the Bees.

The National leaguers have no corner on the rookie crop. The Red Sox, for instance, took the blankets off Mickey Harris, a 22-year-old lefty from New York, and that young man proceeded to fan eight as he pitched his club to a 7-2 decision over the hapless Senators. Harris was assisted no little by the home runs of brothers Williams, Finney and Foxx.

Then there is Chubby Dean, Connie Mack's chunky left hander, who made his second victory over the world champion Yankees in eight days, a four-hit, 3 to 0 coat of whitewash. Chubby had the champs eating out of his hand and was never in danger.

Waner Wins Game

A strange feature of this game was that the Mackmen used none of their four hits in scoring any of their runs. Bump Hadley generously contributed seven passes and Marius Russo added two more gifts.

While singing the praises of the rookies, it might be just as well not to overlook the work of some of the old timers. There is Paul Waner, for example, whose pinch hit with the bases loaded in the ninth, drove in two runs to give the unbeaten Pirates a 3-2 margin over Larry French and the rest of the Cubs.

And there is Harry Gumbert, whose four-hit picthing gave the Giants their first win of the season—a 1-0 shutout over the Phillies. All other games were washed out.

Election days are days the judges should be on an hourly basis. Judge Dickey drew the long trick this year and was on the job from 7 o'clock Tuesday morning until 10 o'clock Tuesday night. All disputes at the polls were referred to him for settlement and should there be any arrests made, they are brought in for settlement also. The election was peaceful by the way.

The case of Saylor vs. Alborn continued Monday in court room number one, before Judge W. Walter Braham. During the morning session the plaintiffs called Dr. G. R. Kramer, pathologist of the Youngstown City Hospital who testified that the injuries received by Mrs. Saylor in an accident on Nov. 24, 1938, in Tarentum, Pa., probably caused the cancer which developed later.

The Communist party will be on the November ballot it appeared Monday due to a petition signed by about 100 Lawrence county citizens asking that this be done. The names and addresses of the signers are in the court house.

Upon petition of Constable Nicholas De Carbo of the fifth ward three deputy constables were appointed for the election. They were William Powell in the 3rd precinct, Vincenzo Gennocki in the 1st precinct and Karl Rabusky in the 4th precinct.

County Controller Frank W. Hill is home after a tour of other counties of the state with the state president of the Pennsylvania Controllers' Association. They have been checking up on the possibilities that may eventuate if the General Assembly diverts a portion of the liquid fuels tax in the special session. Mr. Hill says that if the diversion includes everything it will take away from the counties a proportionate share of the half cent return paid back to the county treasurers.

FORMER WPA WORKER IS KILLED BY TRAIN

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 24.—The mangled body of Daniel R. Yoho, 37, of 1709 Twelfth avenue, was found along the Pennsylvania tracks at Twentieth street Tuesday, by Arthur Johnston, a neighbor.

Coroner H. C. McCarter said Yoho apparently had been run down by a train. A former WPA worker, Yoho leaves his parents, six brothers, three sisters and a daughter.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Well, there goes another election day. After talking it over with some of the old-timers we find that the past affair was one of the most quiet in many and many a year. Very little activity took place and very few people went to the polls . . . although the Republicans turned out twice as strong as did the Democrats in this vicinity. Some of the boys are rather disappointed but that is always the case . . . only a certain number can win . . . it's the real man that can come out on the street after an election finding himself in defeat and still face his friends and enemies with a smile . . . and really mean it. We think that those who lost out in our city and county are that type of men.

Demands are coming in for dogs. At present we haven't any names to give you but perhaps when spring housecleaning hits the different sections of the town there will be some to give you . . . until then, those of you who have dogs, treat them good and they will be your long lost friends.

The buds on the trees are beginning to really burst forth. Now is the time to get out after work or before work if you have time and really get to know nature. Start fixing up your yard now and it will be much better when summer comes. Trim your rose bushes and hedges. Clean away dead leaves that haven't as yet started to decompose. Fix up the lot and let's see if we can't have a beautiful city again this summer.

* * *

If, in your rumaging around the county, you find some old school seats, theatre seats or the like, could you be kind enough to get in contact with this desk; you would be doing a great deed for your city. The new theatre building that has been built at Cascade park is badily in need of such seats . . . we are all trying to save the city money and in this way you could help. To fully appreciate this new building you should take time and make a visit to Cascade Park . . . it's really a credit to our community.

Be sure to read the classified ad page . . . it will help with your spring housecleaning.

Bids—Bridge

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has approved a proposal of the County Commissioners to invite sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor and materials for the building and the building of a reinforced concrete and steel highway bridge over Sankey Run where said Run crosses the north and south public road, the middle line of which is the same as the Township line between the Townships of Union and Mahoning, in the County of Lawrence, Pennsylvania, said bridge to have a channel span of 30 feet, a roadway of 22 feet, a paved running surface of 20 feet, with abutments, side walls and railing, all as more fully set forth in plans and specifications for the same now on file in the office of the County Commissioners prepared by W. L. Wilson, registered engineer of New Castle, Pa., which are open to the inspection of all intending bidders during such advertising and time specified therein for reception of bids, copies of which may be obtained from the said W. L. Wilson by depositing with him the sum of $10.00 which will be returned to all persons who return said plans and specifications in good condition and make a bid on said work, whether successful or otherwise, but will not be returned to persons who do not make a bid.

Bids must be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Bids—Bridge" and will be received by the undersigned at his office on or before May 15, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., E.S.T., at which time said bids will be opened publicly by the County Commissioners at their office. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of $500.00, payable to the County of Lawrence, to be forfeited to the County of Lawrence to the extent the said County suffers loss by reason of a bidder to whom the contract is awarded failing to sign the contract and give the required bonds within ten days after the contract is awarded to him. A form of proposal is contained in said specifications and all proposals must be in substantial compliance with said form. All work must be completed on or before September 15, 1940.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and/or all bids.

Signed: Frank W. Hill,
County Controller.

Stock Market Trading Dull

Little Change In Prices During Activities Of Morning Hours

By LESLIE GOULD,
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, April 24.—The stock market was dull today with plus and minus signs about equally divided.

Bethlehem Steel lost a point but steadied around noon. Other steels followed a similar pattern.

Aviation shares were backward, American Air Lines slipping a point at one time. Motors gave up fractions. Westinghouse Electric, Firestone and International Paper also were easier.

Rails gained ground in moderately active dealings, led by a rise of better than a point in Great Northern preferred. Oils, packing shares, rail equipments and mail orders were others to show improvement from last night's closing levels.

Frederick Klages Called By Death

Funeral Services To Be Held Thursday Afternoon At Lillyville Church

ELLWOOD CITY, April 24.—Frederick A. Klages, aged 77 years, passed away at his home, in Franklin township, near Lilyville, on Tuesday at 12:55 p. m., after a lingering illness of complications.

He was born in Hanover, Germany, on February 24, 1863, and came to America as a young man. In 1887, he was united in marriage to Mary S. Weigman, of Patterson Mills, Pa., who survives him. For twenty-three years, he had been an employee of the Mathews Conveyor Company.

For a long period of years, he had been an active worker and faithful member of the Lilyville Church of God. He had resided at the present home for many years and was well-known and highly esteemed.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clara M. Crumrine, Washington, Pa., two sons, Walter H. and Harry L., of Franklin township, and six grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the home until 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at the Lilyville Lutheran church at 2:30 p. m., in charge of the pastor, Rev. William Mitchell. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

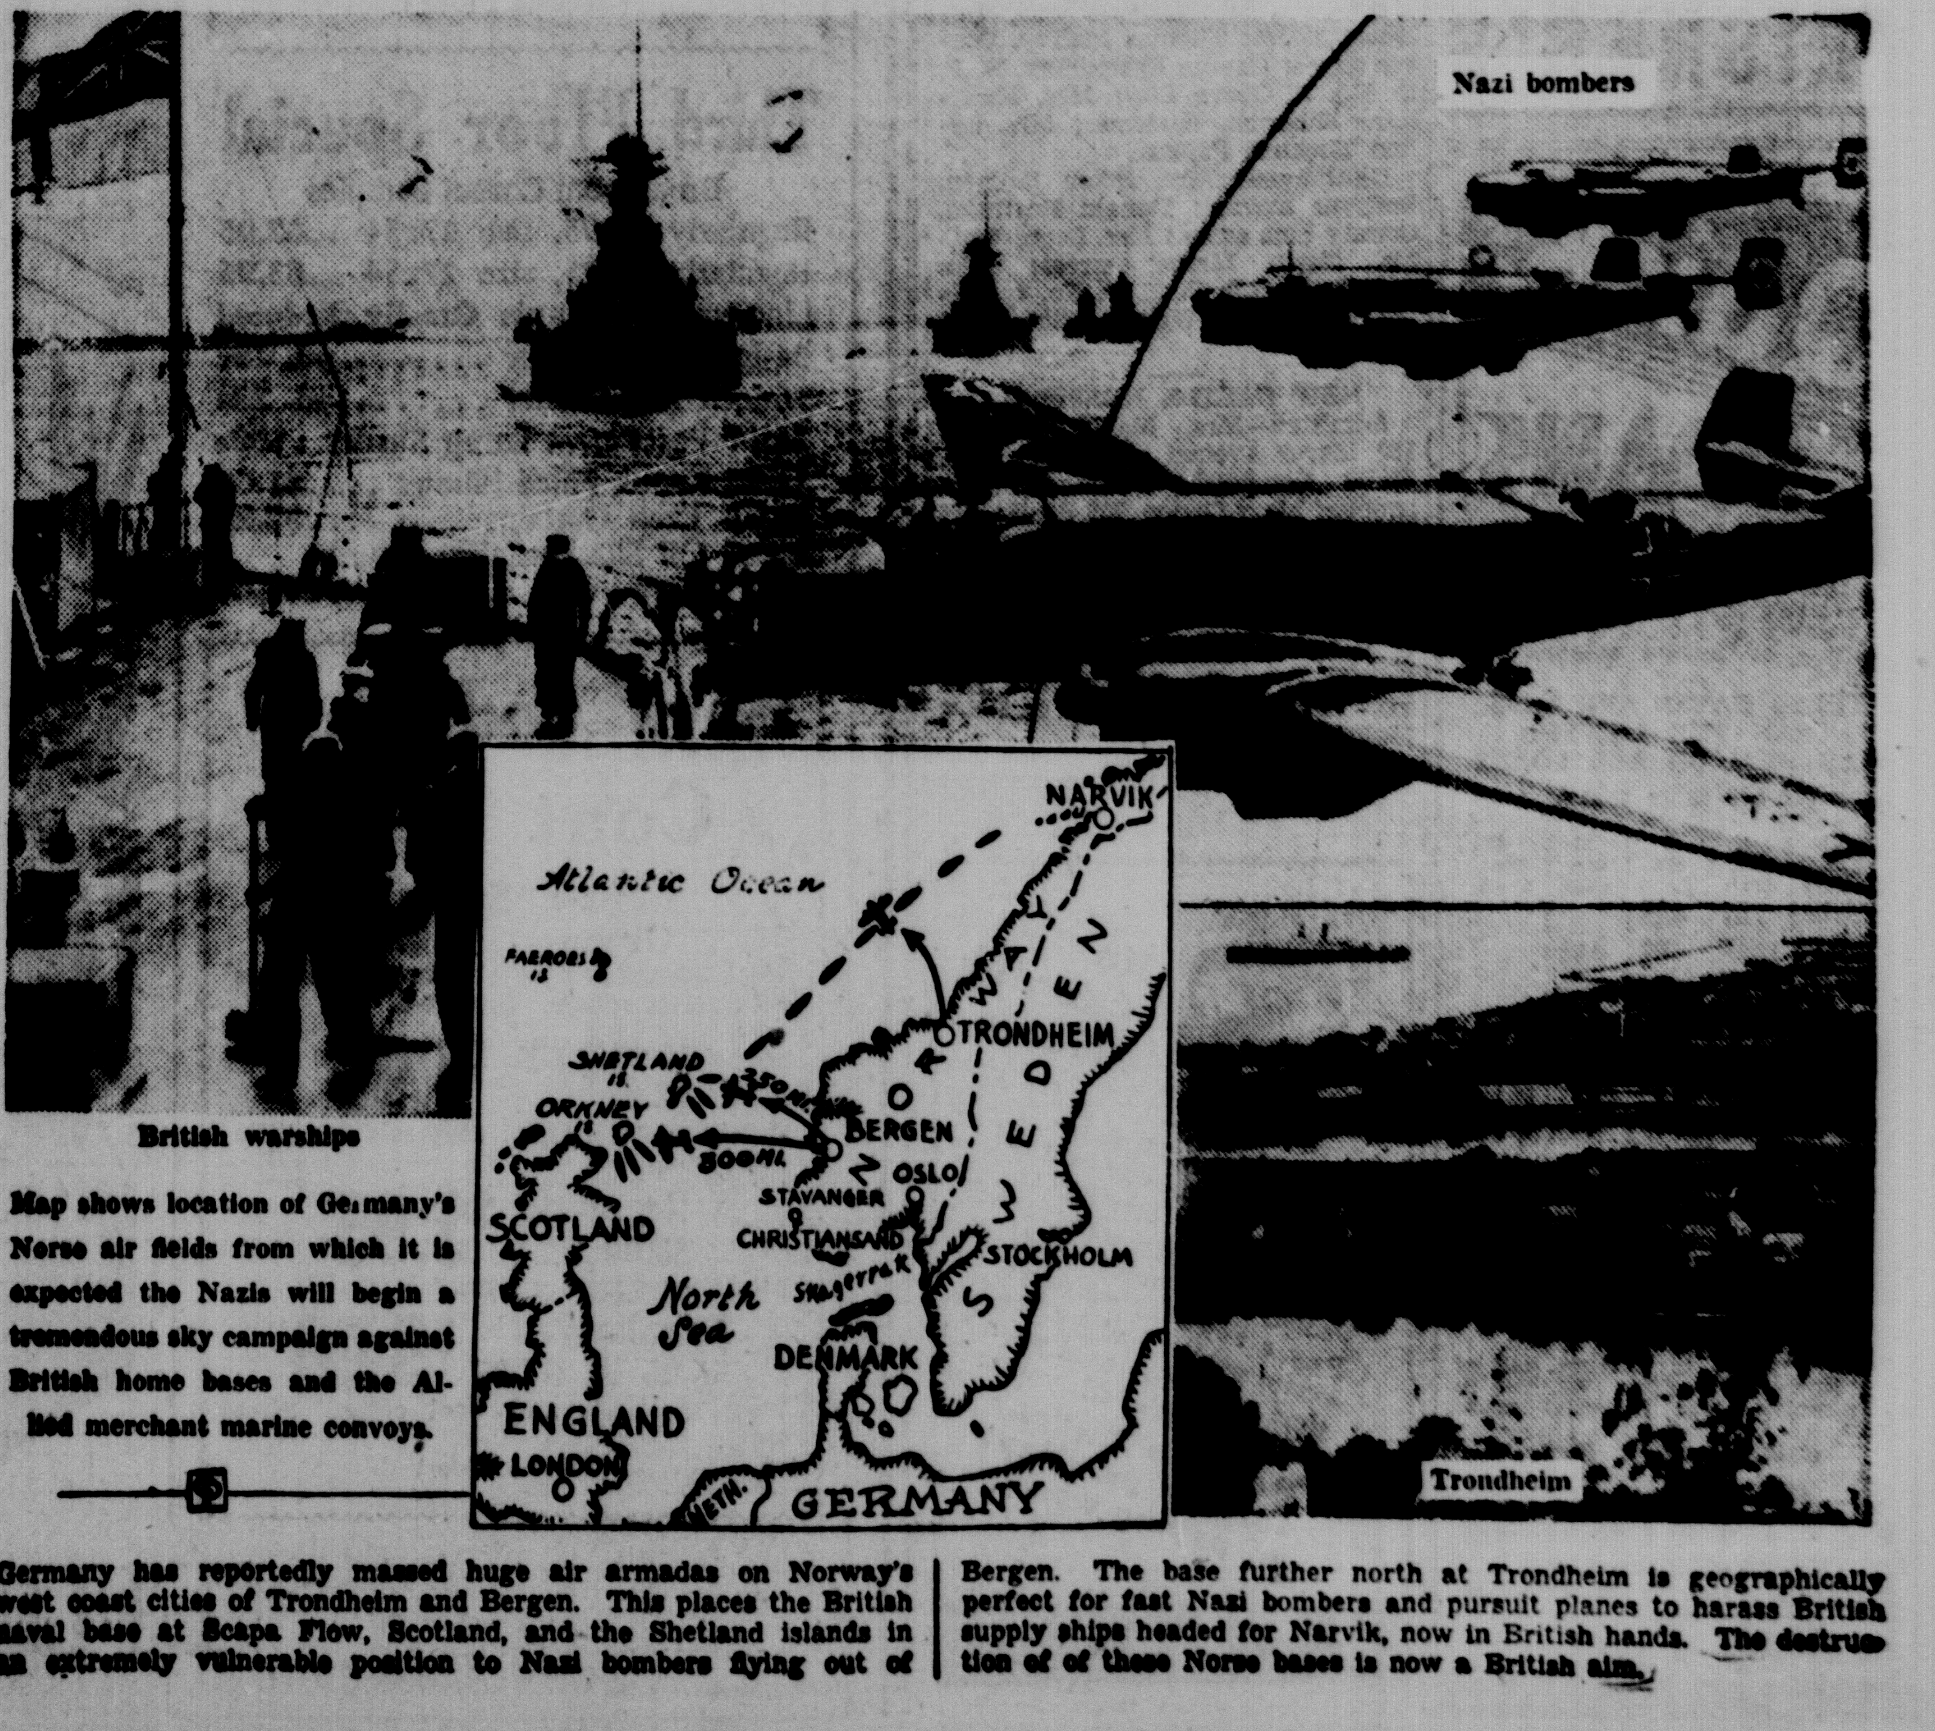
Nazis Peril British Lifelines With Norwegian Air Bases



Map shows location of Germany's Norse air fields from which it is expected the Nazis will begin a tremendous sky campaign against British home bases and the Allied merchant marine convoys.

Germany has reportedly massed huge air armadas on Norway's west coast cities of Trondheim and Bergen. This places the British naval base at Scapa Flow, Scotland, and the Shetland islands in an extremely vulnerable position to Nazi bombers flying out of Bergen. The base further north at Trondheim is geographically perfect for fast Nazi bombers and pursuit planes to harass British supply ships headed for Narvik, now in British hands. The destruction of of these Norse bases is now a British aim.

New York Fair Awaits Opening

Officials Plan To Make Exposition Greatest In History

MANY FEATURES BEING ADDED

By JANE COCHRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 24.—New and enlarged exhibits and greater entertainment features, aimed at making the 1940 edition of the New York World's Fair the outstanding exposition in history, are undergoing final polish as the Fair prepares for its May eleventh opening.

This year's 50-cent Fair, according to officials, will out-dazzle the 1939 edition from the top of the Trylon to the bottom of the Time Capsule. The carnival spirit and emphasis on fun for the family are planned to send the turnstiles clicking to top the 26,000,000 paid admissions of 1939.

A primary aim of the new Fair was a better balance between the exhibit and international areas with the amusement area.

A program of musical extravaganzas, dancing for visitors and entertainment by "name" bands and top-flight stars of the entertainment world will be held in the re-christened amusement area. Called now the "Great White Way," the area will be seven to ten times as bright as last year with unique fireworks displays and a greatly enlarged program of free amusements scheduled.

Special Attractions For Women

A gigantic fashion show and a display of "Americans at Home," highlighting home furnishings as well as model homes to be occupied by forty representative families during the season, are planned for the women visitors.

On the site vacated by the Soviet Pavilion the 1940 Fair will present American versions of Old World bazaars and fiestas through a series of lively festivals to be known as "Twenty Four Fairs Within the Fair."

American citizens of different nationality groups will present entertainments that will be varied weekly and the auditorium now being built on the spot will seat 5,000 persons.

In the foreign area, forty nations are busy remodeling and enlarging in the area are 75 per cent of all the inhabitable portions of the globe, including war decimated Poland and Czechoslovakia and battle-scarred Finland.

Improvements and enlargements are scheduled for displays in the exhibit area which won high praise last year. Art Associate, Inc., will present more than $30,000,000 worth old masters, The House of Jewels will contain fourteen million dollars in costly and rare jewels and the exhibitions of business have been brought up to date with timely displays of scientific and industrial developments.

Plans For Children

Special provisions have been made for the children including a "Mystery Garden" presented by Gas Exhibits, Inc., complete with a dwarf, talking flagstones, disappearing statues, brilliant gas and water fountains. They'll also have special rides and a playground at the fair.

For the 1940 season, the theme "World of Tomorrow" has been changed to "Peace and Freedom." The Fountain Lake of the amusement area has been christened Liberty Lake and a patriotic display, promised as the greatest exhibit of Americanism ever staged, will be presented by the American Legion.

Picnic grounds, in addition to those of last year, new features of landscaping, and hundreds of thousands of brilliant flowers will set off the brilliance of the fair's color scheme for a season which the officials predict and expect to be "bigger and better in every way."
